U.S. Readies Medicaid Fraud Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — A doctor claims he performed six tonsillectomies on the same patient last year. The government paid the bills. A pharmacist filed a claim for 120 prescription pills a day for 204 days running, also supposedly for one person. Both cases were picked out by computers searching files as the government prepares for its first nationwide investigation of fraud and abuse in the Medicaid program.

The government estimates taxpayers throw away $1 billion a year in state and federal Medicaid charges for care the poor don't receive. Doctors and pharmacists will be special targets of the investigation because they are believed to account for the greatest losses, says a spokesman for Tom Morris, inspector general of the department of Health, Education and Welfare. The spokesman said nursing homes, laboratories, clinics, hospitals and dentists, who are paid under Medicaid for care they give the poor will be scrutinized.

Administration sources said Morris' office, created by Congress last year after widespread reports of Medicaid and welfare losses, is informing governors and state and local officials of the probe, hoping to win their support. Computers have been examining all Medicaid bills for the year ending last February, picking out suspicious looking cases, sources said. They added that the names picked out are being verified to preclude technical errors. Investigators, along with state and federal prosecutors, will make detailed examinations of the cases.

Among examples of suspected fraud and abuse are double billings, charges for prescriptions that apparently never were filled and payments by the government for patients who don't exist. The Medicaid program to provide care for those who can't afford it is administered by the states, with the federal government paying an average of 55 per cent of the total cost.

Meanwhile, the House Ways and Means Committee has approved a measure increasing penalties for Medicaid and Medicare fraud. Under the measure, practitioners found guilty of fraud could be prohibited from taking part in the two programs. The bill, which still awaits action by the full House, also would give the General Accounting Office subpoena powers to press investigations of suspected wrongdoing.

Governor Backs 19 Drink Age

By SUSAN AGER
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has vowed to veto any bill removing state police patrols from Detroit freeways, but has indicated his support for raising the legal drinking age to 19.

Milliken said Thursday he would not support raising the drinking age any higher. In his first news conference since returning from a two-week trip to Japan, Milliken said he could support a bill that won Senate approval Tuesday to raise the drinking age from 18 to 19 for three years. But he said he did not think it was the sole solution to alcohol-related problems in Michigan high schools.

More education on alcohol abuse and stepped up efforts to enforce school rules against drinking are needed, he said.

He also surprised reporters by promising to veto any legislation intended to pull the state police out of Detroit and replace them with Wayne County Sheriff's deputies.

"There's no question about it," he said when asked if he would veto such a bill. "I'll say it flatly in this case because it would be that serious a mistake."

"I'm going to fight this bitterly right down the line," he said of legislative attempts to end the state police patrols, begun last August by Milliken after several freeway assaults on stranded motorists.

A House-passed appropriations bill to replace the state police with sheriff's deputies is now in the Senate Appropriations Committee. The bill is strongly supported by the Michigan AFL-CIO, which represents Wayne County deputies.

Milliken would not go so far as to call the union's support self-serving, but said it was concerned with its members' interests when the public interest was more important in this case.

In a letter to appropriations committee members, Milliken said Thursday that the key issue in the controversy is "the best way to both guarantee safe passage on the freeways and to convince the public of that safety."

"From that viewpoint, there is no alternative to the state police," he said.

"The fabric of the City of Detroit has been torn by a number of events in recent years. The outbreak of crime on the freeways was one of the most publicized," he said.

"The state police have turned (See back page, sec. 1, col. 6)

BACK FROM JAPAN: Gov. William Milliken talks with reporters at his first news conference in Lansing Thursday since returning from two-week tour of Japan. Milliken said he would probably sign a bill raising legal drinking age to 19, but vowed to veto any measure that would remove state police from Detroit.

State's 'Numbers Racket' Is Starting Next Monday

DETROIT (AP) — For nearly 100 years, betting on the numbers has been illegal in Michigan. Starting Monday, it has the state's blessings.

The state lottery bureau will be taking bets in southeastern lower Michigan at 300 spots from Saginaw and Lansing to the Ohio line. The first drawing will be at 7:26 p.m. Monday.

Officials of the state's Lottery Bureau say they started their own numbers racket in hopes of getting a piece of the profits enjoyed for years by organized crime.

Gus Harrison, lottery commissioner, said Thursday the "Daily Game" should bring the state $50 million or more in profits the first year and $160 million to $170 million in the second year.

Players will be able to place bets ranging from 50 cents to $6. The bettor will choose the three-digit number, the amount and type of bet.

A bettor can bet "straight" — that is, on just one number, or he can bet on a combination of digits. If he picks the number 123, for example, he gets a payoff of 500 to one with a straight bet. For a combination bet, he gets a lower payoff if, say, the digits 312 come up. Drawings will be held six nights a week to pick the day's winners.

Harrison said the lottery's other two games — Michigan and Instant Game — will not be changed.

Other betting spots are expected to be added later so more people around the state can play the numbers game.

State officials had aimed for April 1 as the number game's starting date. They estimate the delay cost them $8 million and say they want the computer firm that will run the new game to take the loss.

Harrison said the state plans to cut the size of its contract with Datatrol, Inc. by $250,000 because of the delay. The contract between the state and the computer firm provided the state could charge Datatrol up to $25,000 a day for delays it caused past April 1.

A Datatrol official said

Thursday the assessment is being disputed and is being considered by the firm's attorneys.

Datatrol's contract is expected to earn the firm about $11 million in the next two years. The company is a subsidiary of Applied Devices Corp. of Hauppauge, N.Y.

Several other states have numbers games, and Harrison said those gave him some tips on special features the Michigan game should have.

For example, it will have an automatic cutoff that will not accept bets on especially popular numbers on a given day, such as the day's date expressed numerically.

Harrison has set a $3 million limit on the daily payout.

He also chose a fixed-odds payoff system, in contrast to the pari-mutuel system in which the payoff varies according to the number of bets on a particular number. That system, he said, is hard to understand.

Students Hostile To First Lady

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — In the first hostile demonstration of Rosalynn Carter's Latin American tour, about 150 students a block away nearly drowned out the U.S. First Lady as she conferred with Ecuadorian officials.

"I heard some noise, but I don't know anything about it," Mrs. Carter said Thursday afternoon as she left the Legislative Palace after a discussion of the ruling military junta's plans to return the Ecuadorian government to civilian control next year. She said she thought it was "a local problem."

The students threw stones and bricks, set fire to police barricades with gasoline bombs, and shouted into an amplifier, "Go home, bloody Rosalynn!" and "Yankies just want to reinforce imperialism."

About 25 riot police silenced the loudspeakers and dispersed the demonstrators with tear gas.

Two American reporters traveling with Mrs. Carter said they were hit but not hurt by rocks when they left the palace to investigate.

Mrs. Carter received an enthusiastic welcome at the Working Boys' Center of Quito, where 500 persons waved paper Ecuadorian and U.S. flags and cheered her.

"Bienvenida, Rosalynn Carter," read a huge red sign atop the center.

The First Lady told a news conference the three military leaders who took over the government last year asked her to explain the U.S. government's refusal in February to let Israel sell Ecuador its Kfir jet fighter, powered by an American engine.

Mrs. Carter said she replied that the U.S. government does not want to help introduce such sophisticated weapons into countries that don't have them. She said Vice Adm. Alfredo Pineda told her Ecuador already has such sophisticated planes. She said she told the junta she would mention that to President Carter but made no promises concerning arms sales.

At a banquet in Mrs. Carter's honor Thursday evening, Pineda said their talk had been "beneficial and constructive."

Mrs. Carter goes today to Lima, Peru, the third stop on her seven-nation, 13-day tour.

Andrews U. Will Honor Elisha Gray

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Elisha Gray II, former chairman of the board of Whirlpool Corp., will receive an honorary doctor of laws degree Sunday morning at commencement exercises for Andrews University here. The ceremony will be held in the Pioneer Memorial church on the Andrews campus at 9:30 a.m.

Two others will receive honorary doctoral degrees, according to a university spokesman.

They are commencement speaker Neal C. Wilson, vice president of the Seventh-day Adventist church for North America, and Harry Anderson of Bridgeport, Conn., a prominent religious artist and illustrator.

Gray, who served as president of Whirlpool for nine years and chairman of the board for 13 years, will be cited for his many contributions to the community and to American industry. Gray retired as board chairman in 1971.

After five years as vice president and general operating manager of Cutler Shoe Co., Gray joined Whirlpool in 1933, becoming vice president in 1940. In 1947, he was elevated to the post of executive vice president. He has been a member of the governing board of his alma mater, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, as well as on the boards of the General Foods Corp., Mersey Hospital in Benton Harbor, Sears Bank, the American Gas Association, and other companies and organizations.

Gray lives in Benton township. School officials said 440

Bumbling Males Irk Lady Fire Fighters

SUPERIOR, Wyo. (AP) — It started with a minor brush fire. But eight female firefighters have quit, disgusted with their male counterparts who, they say, ruined $800 worth of equipment.

And except for the quick work of a bystander who commandeered the vehicle, one of the town's two fire trucks would have gone up in flames. The driver, a man, had parked it downwind from the brush fire.

The equipment damage occurred when a nozzle and lengths of hose were not stowed away and bounced along the pavement on the trip back to the firehouse.

Midge George, one of the women who quit Thursday, said the men don't take their jobs seriously.

"It's a big joke to put out a fire, then to go have a beer and talk about it," she said. Mrs. George says she and the seven other women, who battle blazes alongside the men, resigned because they cannot put up with the inefficiency anymore. Besides, she said, it isn't fair that the women have to clean up the equipment and roll up the hoses.

"When the fire is over, everybody leaves," she said.

Winning Numbers

DETROIT (AP) — The winning numbers in Thursday's regular weekly Bureau of the State Lottery Michigan are: nine-six (96) and seven-one-one (711).

Rep. Kennedy Exhibits Wisdom And Courage

Alone among five state representatives from Southwestern Michigan, Rep. Bela Kennedy of Bangor this week voted against a resolution calling for a federal Constitutional Convention to outlaw abortion in the U.S.

Rep. Kennedy deserves the highest commendation for both his wisdom and his courage.

His vote indicates he's well grounded in the intent of the Bill of Rights. It supports what Michigan's Secretary of State, Richard Austin, said so succinctly about the issue of abortion:

"I see no reason why any human being should be denied the basic rights to be happy, free and private. This means that each woman old enough to become pregnant should be allowed to choose her own course of action. . . The laws covering a woman's decisions, her body and her maternal responsibilities are made by men, judged by men and enforced by men. This is discriminatory."

Four other area legislators — Mark Siljander of Three Rivers, Ray Mittan of Niles, Harry Gast Jr. of St. Joseph and Edgar Fredricks of Holland — obviously don't feel their masculinity disqualifies them from telling women how to run their lives. They voted for the convention that would prohibit abortion.

Fair and logical as was Rep. Kennedy's vote against the abortion ban, it nevertheless opens him up to slashing political attack. Abortion ban supporters approach their subject with religious fervor. In fact, it is precisely a denominational push that moves many of them. The Roman Catholic church, as well as several fundamentalist denominations, especially seek to cement their religious views into law that binds other Americans, too.

There is, therefore, a built-in reprisal facing any politician who "transgresses" by voting to make abortion a matter of individual conscience.

How effective is the backlash?

One need only to recall the history of Mrs. N. Lorraine Beebe to determine the reprisal factor is powerful. Mrs. Beebe was elected state senator in 1966. After taking office in 1967, she rapidly became one of the state's best known legislators. Often mentioned as a potential gubernatorial candidate, she enjoyed what was potentially the best political career a woman ever had in Michigan. Then Sen. Beebe campaigned for removal of Michigan's law banning abortions — unconstitutional, she thought. In 1969 she lost a bid for re-election after a campaign fraught with religious overtones.

Three years later, the United States Supreme Court ruled that the abortion law in Michigan, as well as those in 28 other states, was, indeed, unconstitutional.

Bela Kennedy comes from a conservative district; he's aware that his vote this week could boomerang. But he'd rather vote for what he believes is right than for his political existence.

Let's hope the women of Southwestern Michigan always remember Bela Kennedy, the representative who had the courage to stick up for their civil rights.

Incidentally, it wouldn't do any harm to communicate with state senators from this area regarding the anti-abortion resolution adopted by the House 59 to 34. If the Senate doesn't approve it, too, the resolution will simply die. And Michigan won't become the ninth state to call for a Constitutional Convention to ban abortion.

Dieting Crime Away

From its tribal origins, mankind has puzzled over the causes of crime.

Until a few generations ago the prevailing view in the nations where Christianity is the dominant religious force was the Bible's explicit position that a person assaulted his neighbor because he failed to accept God.

Unquestionably the crime rate would drop precipitately if more people would put the Ten Commandments into daily practice.

Since, though, this is an impossible dream in its own right, the sociologists have centered on three theories.

One is environmental, the association with people with anti-social tendencies influencing others to the same way of thought.

Another is economic, that poverty breeds crime as a means to escape destitution.

A third is hereditary, that a criminal parent begets a criminal progeny.

The evidence to support any of those suppositions is available to a degree, but only to the extent that it becomes conflicting.

The police take a more pragmatic outlook.

They are convinced a person follows the wrong turn in the road because he believes he can beat the rap.

A major exception in that impression is the misconduct stemming from the stimulus of alcohol or drugs.

Based upon some isolated research, a number of scientists and physicians are arriving at the opinion that what people eat accounts for some of the crime rate.

They have uncovered numerous instances of malnutrition, food allergies, and other nutritional deficiencies triggering aggressive, mind warping behavior.

Hypoglycemia, a lower than normal level of sugar in the blood, can lead to irritability and irrationality because it upsets the brain's requisite diet; and if the human tank is not fed properly it can easily send its owner off in the wrong direction.

The Manhasset, N.Y., police arrested a man for seriously beating and injuring his wife. He was found to suffer from hypoglycemia.

By chance a Spencer, Oklahoma, psychiatrist discovered three patients going haywire from food allergies. A 12-year-old boy after eating a banana and an apple tried to beat up another patient in his office. A middle aged woman tested on wheat said she felt like hitting someone. Another youngster, tested on tobacco, assaulted his examiner under the delusion he was the Devil.

A forensic psychiatrist at the Saskatchewan provincial prison in testing the inmates suggests 70 per cent of the hard liners have vitamin deficiencies and 90 per cent of the murderer inmates diagnosed as paranoid schizophrenics suffer from low blood sugar or other vitamin deficiencies.

While it may strain the credulity to think that an apple, a banana, a lack of chocolate bar may send some people off the deep end, the quality of research is more impressive than the advertisements implying the Bulgarians reach the century mark because they live on yogurt.

Police authorities in the communities where these nutritional defects are being uncovered are less than skeptic.

If eating strawberries instead of bananas or apples and if downing a candy bar will stabilize a person, that's a cheap way to make some head on the fight against crime.

EAU CLAIRE DRIVER TELLS HER SIDE

Editor,
Enclosed please find a copy of my letter of resignation as a bus driver, that was sent to the Board of Education of the Eau Claire Public Schools. I am the third driver to resign in the last week.

There are two sides to every story and I feel that it is my moral obligation to let my side be known to all those concerned.

I hope you will be able to include it in your "Letters to the Editor" column.

Board of Education
Eau Claire Public Schools
Dr. William Horie
It is with deep sorrow and regret that after over 11 years of service, I have decided to admit defeat and resign as a bus driver for the Eau Claire Public Schools.

In the last two years, my job has become more of a chore than a pleasure. I have watched a group of good dependable. Dedicated bus drivers, one by one, lose faith and be reduced to a "who cares" attitude because of being pushed from one temporary supervisor to another, the lack of concern for their mechanical problems, the questioning of their integrity, the repeated breakdown of their units and the overall poor condition of the bus fleet.

I could sympathize with a shortage of money being the reason for this situation, but in no way can I believe it when I read of generous salary raises to employees that do not have the responsibility of a child's life in their hands, plans for a new auditorium, hear of a sport complex and see that sport activities have all their needs fulfilled.

What price does the Board of Education put on the life of a child?

With these thoughts in mind, I end my employment effective at the end of the 1976-77 school year. I have only one consolation in leaving my fellow employees and the students on my route that I have had for so many years. When and if tragedy strikes, and it will if present conditions persist, my conscience will be clear because I have tried. How many of the board of education members will be able to feel the same?

THEY MAY BE WORKING TOO MANY HOURS

Editor,
The time for the yearly rhetoric on how hard our legislators work is here: — 12-14-20 hours, etc. This is monotonous to the point of being ridiculous or in a sense assinine. The concentration or clear-headedness, or rationalization of people in such circumstances is suspect. The necessity of such hours is small if the home work is complete and concise. Also, if the meetings are handled promptly and with order.

In Tuesday's paper, by A.P. writer, Johnson, the school aid bill and the P.B.B. Issue are listed last. To me this seems like a miscarriage of priority.

In contrast the first action has to do with the so-called "rainy day" fund. I'm a little bit suspicious of this one.

During the past years when Washington would approve the excuse or gift or loan (same as gift) of a billion dollars here and there, around the world, I listened to see if I could hear any of the states' leaders say to Washington — "Here, that means twenty million out of my state again. (figuratively speaking). This has got to stop. Did you? Oops! I almost forgot that the Detroit Tigers might need a little backing.

So all in all, I presume that

Ross' interest dates back to the airport when it was named Ross field after him. Subsequently, it was changed to be called Twin City Airport. In order that the city might obtain a federal works improvement project, Ross sold the city originally 48 acres of land in the form of a cross, representing the runways, for a nominal $4,300 in 1940. Nader His Own Worst Enemy

WASHINGTON — Only a few years ago, the "consumer movement" in this city consisted of a handful of professional gadflies who compensated with enthusiasm for their lack of political influence in the policy-making councils of government.

Today those consumer advocates need no longer resort to shrill proclamations in the press to express their views because they now lead a rapidly maturing coalition of pressure groups which are respected both on Capitol Hill and in the White House.

But there remains a lack of political sophistication, particularly in those groups led by Ralph Nader, which manifests itself in a tendency to view issues and people only in starkly contrasting blacks and whites, ignoring the realities of a gray world.

Nader is a purist who seldom forgives or forgets after someone commits what he views as an unpardonable act. His great strength is his dedication to principle but the other side of the coin, willingness to compromise, can be a serious weakness.

A current case in point involves a nasty little fight which is brewing over President Carter's choice of a chairman of a little known but highly influential government agency, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board (FHLBB).

But during the process of seeking an FHLBB head this year, President Carter's staff consulted with Nader, the Consumer Federation of America and several other consumer groups.

The front-runner for several months was John Heimann.

New York State Banking Commissioner until he became New York State Housing Commissioner in mid-1976. Although he wasn't perfect in the eyes of consumer leaders he was, as one of them described him, "at least a B-minus candidate."

But Nader could have avoided that confrontation and achieved at least a partial victory if he had not been intransigently opposed to Heimann. "The Nader people miscalculated, they didn't do their homework," says one knowledgeable source.

"Nader put all his eggs in one basket, but he didn't check out Elliott," says another insider. "The result was that the consumer groups blew not only that appointment but also some of their credibility within the White House."

Congress Grabs For More Room

WASHINGTON — Congressmen and women are fond of calling for an end to wasteful practices and a cutback in the bloated bureaucracy of the executive branch.

But very few of them ever mention the extravagant ways of Congress in pursuit of comfort at the taxpayers' expense.

For instance, they like to forget about that pay raise they voted themselves recently.

Likewise all those free or at least discount perquisites that come with congressional membership, from subsidized hospital care to free plants for their offices.

It is the collective congressional shelter instinct, however, which really puts the bite on the public. And Congress is at it again.

Senate and House leaders have just approved a plan to extend the west front of the Capitol at a cost of $53 million. The aging facade is deteriorating badly and needs repairs. But the leadership wants to use the occasion to add about 25 percent to the Capitol's floor space, providing more cozy little office hideaways for lawmakers. An even more grandiose proposal, at a larger cost, was rejected after public protests in 1973. This time the plan seems likely to pass both houses without much trouble.

That exercise will barely be finished when Congress will get its long-awaited master plan, a survey of long-range congressional housing needs which the Capitol architect's office expects to have ready in September.

The survey was commissioned after the House was stymied in two efforts to grab more office space. First the House tried to take over several floors in the new Library of Congress annex, but was frustrated by Senate opposition. Then the House debated taking over a nearby neighborhood of historic houses for a fourth office building but backed off

But during his tenure in Albany, Heimann antagonized New York's Public Interest Research Group, one of the grass-roots consumer organizations which Nader has established throughout the country.

As a result, Nader refused to seriously consider Heimann or any other contender for the post except S. Michael Elliott, chairman of the California Housing Finance Agency.

Nader's only candidate was rejected by the White House as unsuitable for the job, however, and the administration then turned to Robert H. McKinney, a Carter classmate at the Naval Academy who personifies the pro-industry attitude which the consumer groups feared most.

McKinney is both board chairman of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Indianapolis and partner in an Indianapolis law firm which has done extensive work on behalf of the savings and loan industry.

Heimann now is expected to be nominated by Carter as Comptroller of the Currency, an equally influential post in which he will have regulatory authority over the more than 4,000 federally chartered banks.

"The White House is going to a lot of trouble" if the nomination of McKinney to the FHLBB materializes as expected in the coming weeks, warns Nader operative John Brown.

But Nader could have avoided that confrontation and achieved at least a partial victory if he had not been intransigently opposed to Heimann. "The Nader people miscalculated, they didn't do their homework," says one knowledgeable source.

"Nader put all his eggs in one basket, but he didn't check out Elliott," says another insider. "The result was that the consumer groups blew not only that appointment but also some of their credibility within the White House."

after furious public opposition.

The third House Office Building, built only 12 years ago, cost $135.2 million — although when it was approved it had been estimated at a mere $25 million. Since then, an old hotel has been remodeled into House offices and the former FBI building has been transformed into more House offices, at a cost of $17 million.

The Senate, meanwhile, is constructing its own third office building, which will hold 50 senatorial suites and cost $85 million.

The endless push for more and more space is the direct outgrowth of an endless push for more and more staff. There are nearly 20,000 people now employed on the personal and committee staffs of Congress, and that doesn't count humble employees such as maintenance workers.

There is no question that working conditions are overcrowded, but the proper solution might be less staff instead of more space. Quantity is not necessarily the same as quality in the legislative branch, any more than in the administrative.

Every time Congress puts up a new building it fills that building up with new staff, thus creating the need for another new building. It's one of those self-perpetuating circles.

Baptist Homes Given 2-Month 'Breather'

By JIM DeLAND
Assistant City Editor

A federal bankruptcy court in Detroit has given Michigan Baptist Homes, Inc., two months to come up with a plan of untangling a web of financial problems at its four retirement homes, including the Whitcomb Tower in St. Joseph. Judge George Brody granted the firm a two-month delay in bankruptcy proceedings Thursday after hearing a proposal that a management consultant be hired in an attempt to guarantee continued operation of the four centers, which presently have 400 elderly people as lifetime residents. Another hearing will be held July 27.

"The real hope here is to keep this thing open," said St. Joseph Atty. J.D. Hartwig, who participated in the hearing on behalf of several of the 1,300 creditors of Michigan Baptist Homes. "Fortunately, most of the residents have been very cooperative in the form of paying monthly service charges and accepting cutbacks in services."

Testimony at Thursday's three-hour hearing in a jammed courtroom showed residents paid between $10,000 and $80,000 for "lifetime leases" when they entered the homes and as much as $300 more each month for food and maintenance. Among those testifying was Arthur Farrell, former president of the homes and former executive director of the Michigan Baptist Convention — sole stockholder of the homes — who said the retirement centers were his "brainchild."

"Farrell admitted that although the Whitcomb mortgage requires that one-half of all the monies collected on life leases be applied to reduce the mortgage, none of the money was paid over to the mortgage," Hartwig said. "The amount is over $200,000."

"The thing that came out loud and clear, in my opinion, was that they had been operating at a loss for a long time and that when they were selling debentures accountants had discontinued certifying their financial statements. The question that everyone is asking is why they did not include in their prospectus when they were selling debentures the information as to their substantial losses."

Other retirement centers operated by Michigan Baptist Homes include the former Whittier Hotel in Detroit, the Hillside Terrace in Ann Arbor and the Olds Manor in Grand Rapids. The corporation filed last March for protection under federal bankruptcy laws, citing a "cash flow crisis."

Stuart Hertzberg, attorney for the homes, said the corporation has assets of $15 million and liabilities of about $12 million, but that cash flow problems prompted the decision to seek court action in working out arrangements for settling with creditors. He told the court the corporation is negotiating with Christian Services, Inc., which he said is the largest home management firm in the country, to assist Michigan Baptist Homes in making an analysis of its financial needs.

James McTevia, who was named in March as receiver for the homes, told the court of cuts made in staff and services to try to achieve financial solvency.

He said a profit of $38,000 was achieved in April and between $55,000 and $80,000 in May, but noted that no debt services or taxes were paid out of the operating receipts. Hertzberg said the facilities gained some $15,000 in additional income by offering apartments for rent on a monthly basis.

He said the Whittier Towers in Detroit has rooms for 450 residents, but had been operating at only 62 per cent capacity. Whitcomb Tower in St. Joseph has room for 150 residents, but had only 92 occupied, he said. Hertzberg testified the Grand Rapids unit had 128 of 150 residences filled and that the Ann Arbor unit with 90 residences was fully occupied.

SJ Planners Opposed To Car Wash

The St. Joseph city planning commission in separate actions yesterday voted 4 to 2 to reject plans for a coin-operated car wash on Main street and voted unanimously against a proposal to vacate stubs of Lake boulevard and Port street around Whitcomb Tower.

In rejecting the street proposal, planners said they did not want to change traffic pattern each afternoon.

"That would add much too much confusion to Main street," he said.

The street vacation proposal had been mentioned previously by City Commissioner William Gillespie who said it was not his idea but had been suggested to him by a citizen whom Gillespie did not identify.

Actions of the planning commission are advisory to the city commission.

Voting against the car wash plans were Lambrecht, James Mason, James Heathcote and Burton Baker. Voting against rejection were Fellers and Ray Freridge. Neil Berndt abstained. Absent were Grattan Nowlen and D.J. McGrath.

The car wash plans had been submitted at a special meeting May 19 by Leonard Smith, representing the Swan Oil Co.

The plans called for a four-bay, coin-operated car wash to be added to an Arco station owned by Swan Oil on the northeast corner of Main and Jones streets. An adjacent house on the north at 913 Main street would be razed to make way for three of the car wash bays. A fourth bay would be built behind the existing gas station building.

Planners at the May 19 meeting tabled the request and told Smith the plans would have to be revised because proposed curb openings exceeded the maximum allowable length of 30 feet.

Yesterday's vote to reject the plans was taken after Bud Firth, a representative of the Leonard Smith Construction Co., asked planners to schedule a special meeting in two weeks to consider revised plans. He said they were not ready for presentation yesterday.

Firth said revised plans for the curb openings had been submitted for required approval from the state department of highways, but no reply had been received. He said he expected to have the reply within two weeks.

"We want to get the project started as soon as we can," he told planners.

The motion to reject the plans was made by Mason.

"I do not think it's an ideal place for a car wash," he said after the meeting. "There's too much traffic on Main street."

He said people who own property near the gas station had told him that the project was not thoroughly explained to them when a petition for the car wash was circulated.

The petition with 78 signatures was submitted to the planning commission at the last meeting.

Smith told the planners it represented the required 75 per cent of property owners within 400 feet.

Yesterday, Carl Conklin, director of building and inspections, said the petition had been returned to Smith because there were no addresses with the signatures and it was not possible to confirm Smith's claim.

In another matter, the planners voted approval for an 18-car addition to a parking lot on the northeast corner of Lake View avenue and Colonial drive. The lot is for employees at the Imperial Printing Co.

Sentenced To Prison

A Niles man was sentenced yesterday in Berrien Circuit court to 18 months to 4 years in prison for the theft of money from a Niles service station.

Judge William S. White imposed the prison term on Gerald W. Clements, 23, of 1612 Florence, Niles, for larceny in a building. Clements was convicted of stealing cash Nov. 11 from Gary's Standard service station, at 413 East Main street, Niles.

The study will concern long and short range airport plans including possible expansion, development, or relocation, according to Lee Schiek, airport manager. Schiek said the master plan will be made for a 20 year period and will look at community needs and environmental implications of future development. Ross field officials originally applied for the grant more than two years ago.

The study will be conducted by Landrum and Brown, a professional planning agency from Cincinnati. Schiek said he expected the study to begin in approximately six weeks and to last 9-10 months. During that time public hearings will be held to determine the needs of the community.

St. Joe Township Taxpayers Decide To Probe Assessments

BY NICK SMITH
Staff Writer

Concerned United Taxpayers (CUT) of St. Joseph township voted last night to investigate tax assessments and assessing procedures used in the township to see if discrepancies can be found.

At a meeting which drew about 25 people at Fairplain

West school, CUT also voted to continue pressing the township board for specific information regarding the board's decision to create a township manager position.

Members of the newly-formed taxpayers' group have complained about alleged discrepancies in the assessed values of homes, according to Mrs. James (Judy) Ford, CUT president.

Last night, she asked the group, "Do you want to march on township hall with me to get the assessment books" to study?

Larry Rankens, of 269 Cherokee trail, Fairplain, said study of township assessment books would be "an impossible task." Instead of that, he suggested researching specific complaints from CUT members. Rankens is group director of business and finance for Benton Harbor schools.

CUT voted to send the matter to its finance committee. The committee was charged to first determine what assessing formula is used by the township then investigate individual complaints.

Mrs. Ford said the earlier complaints were along the lines of a person saying "I pay $1,000 in taxes while my neighbor, who has a better house, isn't paying that much."

Mrs. Ford also read a letter she received from Township Supervisor Orval Benson. Last week she asked several questions of the board in a letter. She asked when creation of the manager's job was discussed; who was under consideration for the job other than Isadore DiMaggio, who was hired; and what DiMaggio's and Benson's duties are.

Benson wrote: "The questions in your letter of May 23 were openly discussed and explanations given at our public meetings on March 7, March 21, April 2 and April 4 of this year, as well as on radio and television; and the many residents we have talked to since the meeting have expressed satisfaction with the board's action."

Last night CUT members

voted to study the official minutes from the four meetings noted by Benson to see if the board did address and answer their questions.

A letter will also be sent to the township board regarding action taken by the board at its May 16 meeting. At that meeting, according to the letter, five people were appointed to the zoning board of appeals. Although the township ordinance is being changed to expand the board to five members, it currently only specifies three members on the board of appeals, according to the letter.

CUT wants the board to rescind the appointments, then change the ordinance, then hear suggestions from citizens about candidates for the board, the letter states.

Also at the meeting the four candidates for two posts on the Benton Harbor board of education spoke. Incumbents are Bernard Beland and Mrs. Irene Fox; challengers are Freddie Moore and Mrs. Jacqueline Pressup.

Susan Ruspino, a St. Joseph high school senior, has been named winner of a $5,000 Whirlpool Foundation scholarship award in Whirlpool's Laundry Resident Group scholarship competition. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ruspino, 1430 North Manor drive, St. Joseph. Her father is manager of advance development engineering at the laundry resident group.

Selected as recipients of $500 honors awards were Lyn Wade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wade, 1989 South Valley View drive, St. Joseph, and Robert Simons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Simons, 923 Regent street, Niles.

The awards were presented by Lloyd A. Wampach, vice president of the Laundry Products group. Judges for the selection were Roy Shumaker, credit service manager for Heath company; Nancy Dandrea, office manager of the St. Joe Art Association and Lake Michigan college instructor; and Jeffrey Schmidt, DDS.

Other scholarships awarded through the Whirlpool Foundation include Corporate Group and St. Joseph Division. Miss Ruspino is vice president of the senior class at St. Joseph high school and is a member of the E.P. Clarke National Honor society. She was co-captain of the varsity cheerleading squad, and was chosen by her fellow students as a member of the 1976 homecoming court. She plans to enter Michigan State University in the fall, to study psychology or advertising.

Miss Wade is a senior at St. Joseph high school, and a member of the National Honor society. An active participant in Junior Achievement, Lyn was awarded the Executive Award (JA's highest award) in her junior year. She is treasurer of Blossomland Achievers association this year, and is currently in national competition for treasurer of the year, an award for which she placed fifth nationally last year. She plans to attend Oral Roberts university to become a cost accountant in industry. Her father is manager of automatic washer engineering.

Simons is a senior at Niles high school. A member of all of the Niles high school bands, he is also a part of an accelerated math program. Simons also owns and operates his own part-time auto body repair business. He will attend Tri-State College in Angola, Ind., to study bio-medical engineering. His father is a senior electronics technician.

BH Woman Gets Year In Jail

A Benton Harbor woman was sentenced to a year in the county jail yesterday after she pleaded guilty to conspiring to commit petty larceny at The Man Alive clothing store, Fairplain Plaza.

Sentenced by Berrien District Judge Leo K. Cook was Bobbie Jean Willis, 34, of 188 Lake avenue. Cook said he imposed the maximum jail sentence in the case because the woman had been convicted of petty larceny on three previous occasions.

After sentencing Bobbie Willis, Cook granted a prosecution motion to dismiss a felony charge against her. The dismissed charge alleged she committed larceny in a building at Family Foods, Benton township, May 18. Cook said the dismissal was part of a plea bargain. The offense at The Man Alive occurred May 1.

terms in the downtown area because it could interfere with an improvement project now being planned by the Downtown Development authority.

Planning Commissioner John Fellers said the improvement project may involve one-way streets, and the stubs around the Whitcomb might be needed for traffic flow.

James Talbot, director of public works, said a recent traffic count showed the streets are heavily used in the afternoon by southbound traffic avoiding Main street.

He said 2,400 vehicles traveled south on Lake boulevard from Port street in a 24 hour period, and of those, 1,210 were counted between 1 and 6 p.m. He said 540 vehicles were counted northbound on Lake in 24 hours.

Planner Richard Lambrecht said closing the streets would put another 1,210 cars on Main

She added that if a child has a good self-image, the academic skills will be more easily mastered.

"At First Church of God nursery school, the most important goal is to help your child feel good about himself and to relate to his peers in peace and harmony," Mrs. Kibler added.

Recycling Of Wooden Boxes Basis Of 'Tramp Art' Form

EXAMPLE: This chest with its attached dressing mirror was constructed from cigar boxes around the turn of the century. It is a good example of tramp art, which evolved from boxes that were chipped, layered and fitted together to form a piece of furniture.

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Cigar boxes always have been recycled into other boxes for jewelry, bills, sewing, whatnots, and even into shadow boxes, but one recycling hobby that caught on in the United States before the turn of the century was tramp art, which turned boxes into an art form.

Helaine Fendelman, who collects the folk art, was explaining tramp art at the National Arts and Antiques show, where she had one of the interesting exhibits at the Madison Square Garden show, largely dominated by jewelry.

"Tramp art was made out of pieces of wood from cigar, fruit and vegetable boxes and pieces of pine. These were chipped and carved or notched on the edges, usually with a pocket knife. Glue and nails often were used to hold the pieces together. The chipped art often is in pyramid form, either the motif that decorates the piece or the piece itself. There are early examples in many areas of the world of art, which traveled to the United States in the middle of the 19th century.

Layering of the notched wood gives a cumulative effect to the pieces so that they look heavy. Many cigar boxes were very soft wood, which was easily chipped. Others were Brazilian mahogany and Spanish cedar.

Her exhibit of the chipped wood pieces included a little pine cushion on a pedestal, a piece with little diamonds and hearts, that showed great imagination "and could not have been done by a common hobo or bum," Mrs. Fendelman explained. "It had to be someone with skill and intelligence."

A very interested mirror had three carved eagles, one larger in the top center.

A planter on legs had been made from a dynamite crate. She also showed a beautiful chaise longue with the chipped frame made entirely out of cigar boxes. The springs come from an old tractor.

Although she had begun her own collection when she received a gift of a piece, she became so interested she now has more than 100 pieces, she says. She planned to write an article on the art, but became so intrigued with the subject that she wrote a book, "Tramp Art," which was recently published.

The book has more than 100 illustrations including grandfather clocks (two have Seth Thomas works), a miniature rollout desk, a fireplace overmantle, a seven-foot-tall armchair intricately carved, headboards, picture frames, sideboards and the like.

Styles were often influenced by the country of origin. A maple leaf design on one small chest might indicate that the piece is of Canadian origin. Some with hunting symbols might have been crafted at rustic camps.

The art has often been called hobo art, but it was too well done for hobos to have been the only source, she explained. A tramp of the 19th century was a peddler of his own skills. The original craftsmen were the Wanderbushes — wanderers or tramps — who immigrated to the United States for jobs. Whittling was a favorite pursuit as they tramped the countryside looking for work.

Flowers, animals, patriotic and religious symbols as well as geometric patterns are used as motifs. Some cigar box labels were worked into the overall designs. Many well-carved pieces have the notched cigar box pieces decorating other kinds of boxes, which form a base. To be authentic, tramp art must be chip-carved and layered. Matchstick art, which is often called tramp art, was probably done by prisoners, she says.

"In the early part of the 20th century people were given do-it-yourself tricks to do and I think that spawned interest because there are so many tramp art pieces that are almost identical. The items that survived were too good to be thrown away."

Cigar boxes were used because they were available — all but a few states made them and they could be bought for a few pennies.

Mrs. Fendelman and her husband, Burton, who also collects the tramp art, have an antique shop and are active with the American Museum of Folk Art. They plan exhibits in several cities with the art.

Advance Planning Is Advised In Buying Father's Day Gift

NEW YORK (AP) — A little advance planning can go a long way toward finding a gift that Dad needs or wants for Father's Day June 19, suggests the Men's Fashion Association, which offers these shopping tips:

— Get to know Dad's sizes. Trying to guess about sizes is a shopper's version of Russian roulette and an almost sure trip to the exchange counter.

Check with the store here Dad usually shops — it may keep a record of his collar, sleeve, hat, waist, inseam and other key measurements. Or, look inside the collar band of one of his newer shirts or the underside of one of his belts. If the size search is unsuccessful, go for an item in the one-size-fits-all group, such as socks, robes, swimsuits or underwear. If you are successful in getting the right size information, put it on a card for future reference.

— Get to know more about Dad. Watch, listen to him, check his closet — and you may discover that there are things he needs. Does he come down to Sunday brunch, for example, without slippers or robe? Could he use a pair of new pajamas? Is his favorite after-shave lotion running low? No man really has everything.

— Get to know his favorite sport. Today there are colorfully coordinated outfits as well as specialized items for tennis, golf, sailing, camping, etc. For almost every activity someone has designed a hat, glove, sneakers and socks, sweaters, knit shirts and jackets, or whatever. More Americans than ever before are getting into some kind of action. Surely Dad has his favorite recreation.

— Find out if he has the right kind of clothes for loafing. Some Dads would rather be a spectator than a participant — and might not have an adequate leisure-time wardrobe.

In the current fashion mix, there are coordinated shirts and slacks or jackets and slacks, jeans, new versions of walk shorts, shirts, loungewear and any number of items that say, in a fashionable way, "Take it easy."

— Get to know his business wardrobe needs. The business office atmosphere is once again classic, even elegant. The vest-ed suit, traditional favorites in shirts such as button-down and pinned collars, a handsome variety of ties, new treatments in cufflinks and other jewelry, wallets and credit-card carriers, brightly colored umbrellas and lightweight raincoats — all of these are part of the image of the successful executive and the kinds of gifts that would be welcome to the man you honor on his day.

— Get to know his preferences — in colors, styles, etc. Every man has a favorite color. For most men, it's blue. But, you can either buy him something that traditionally goes with blue, such as a red tie with a blue shirt, or get a little offbeat and check out some tans and browns that also coordinate beautifully with certain shades of blue. Put together the right coordinates for him and he'll get that much more good use from his wardrobe.

— Get to know what's current. Some men seem to shy away from something new. They need encouragement and a gift could be the answer.

Some ideas: the new styles in underwear, a smart swimsuit set, a really colorful pair of golf slacks or sport jacket, some of the latest offerings in grooming aids to help him look and smell good, or any one of the many things that he probably wouldn't buy for himself.

— Get to know some of the basic rules of fashion. For example, pick out one of the suits he's recently purchased and using the base color of that suit as a starting point, select a shirt in a harmonizing color and a tie in an accent color as your gift combination. On those mornings when Dad's really too tired to be his own fashion expert, he'll be grateful to you for giving him an outfit that's a certain winner.

— Know your price range. There are gifts you can buy for Dad that range from $5 to $500. For those on a tighter budget, there are handkerchiefs, pocket squares, over-the-calf socks, sporty crew-type socks, underwear, belts, jewelry, wallets, visors, caps and other interesting new summer headwear.

And going up the scale — luxurious lightweight sweaters, sports jackets and lightweight outerwear in chinos, denim, suede, leather and nylon.

The number of ideas you'll get just wandering around the men's department of your favorite store is virtually without limit. But, if you know what you plan to spend and tell the retailer, he'll be able to save you time and trouble.

HAND-CARVED WHITE HOUSE Replica On Tour

MINIATURE: The White House Replica, also known as the Hand-Carved White House In Miniature, will be at Kalamazoo Center's South Ballroom for a six-day exhibition, Monday, June 13, through Sunday, June 19. The public may view the replica from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday. There is no admission charge. John Zweifel of Orlando, Fla., former Chicago artist and exhibit builder, envisioned the replica 20 years ago and began researching the model in 1961. Zweifel was given permission by the Kennedy family to view rooms never before open to the public. Upon Kennedy's assassination in 1963, White House security was tightened. Zweifel depended on sketches and photographs to continue and it was during the Ford administration in 1975 that the doors to the White House were again opened to him. One problem Zweifel faced was having to deal with the ever-changing designs and tastes of the families that resided in the White House. For 15 years, when the White House remodeled so did Zweifel. After our nation's 200th birthday, no more changes were made in the model so that citizens in the future will be able to visualize how the White House looked on the country's 200th birthday.

Tips To Make Packing A Cinch

By ELLIE GROSSMAN

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Now that you've limped home from Europe, or the Orient or the Caribbean each arm half an inch longer from hauling luggage, here's just what you need: packing advice.

Well, there's always next year or next month. The principles themselves are timeless.

The expert in this case is Pamela Ashley, who represents a Fifth Avenue leather goods store here.

Actually, her name is Joan Westberg and she's an actress from Chicago. "I'm the original Organized Woman for Mark Cross," she says.

To begin with, a woman should choose a soft-sided piece of luggage because "it's lightweight and expands. The added weight comes when the sides of a suitcase are molded."

Now, go to the closet and take out everything you're convinced you'll need. "Then put half of it back. Fashion-wise, it's best to work around one or two colors and to use lightweight clothes you can add layers to."

"In this suitcase, I have three skirts, one dress, two pairs of slacks, four tops and an evening dress. All the separates mix and match."

"Of course, you have to take into account the time you're spending, the distance and activities," she says. "If you're touring, you won't need as many clothes as you would at a resort."

All right, you know generally what you're taking; here's how to take it.

Toiletries and bulky items get packed first, except for aerosol cans and cosmetics which you'll carry in a separate tote. "The air pressure on planes will cause the aerosol cans to expand and you don't want them to burst in the cargo area. Don't forget to transfer anything in glass bottles to plastic bottles and only fill them three-fourth full."

Place the heaviest items — a hair dryer, for instance — opposite the handle of the suitcase "so when you lift the suitcase, they don't fall down on your crushables."

"You're already wearing walking shoes, so pack a pair of sandals if you need them, sneakers and evening shoes. Put your nylons, socks and jewelry pouches inside the shoes and then put the shoes in shoe mittens or plastic bags so they're cushioned and won't dirty your clothes."

When you've completed that initial layer, making sure there are no spaces ("I always have a lot of little stuffers like underwear sets to keep shoes from sliding around"), you take a piece of cardboard which you've cut to size and lay that on top.

Why? "Because at your hotel, instead of unpacking everything to get to your toiletries, you simply lift out the cardboard with the clothes."

Her strategy for clothing is "fold and cushion." "The secret," she says, "is to have as few folds in your clothes as possible to prevent creases. You do this by protecting every fold with a rolled item: tissue paper, plastic bags, or all the garments you can roll such as scarves, sweaters, knits and jerseys."

"On top, I put blouses and jackets. Incidentally, you fold a jacket inside out with the collar up and the sleeves flat against each other. Then you fold it in halves or thirds."

"Next, I take the rolled items and fill the spaces. When I have all the layers in, I just bring up the bottoms of the slacks and skirts and fold them across. There's no room for creases in them this way."

Don't forget, she says, to pack a flat clutch for evening use, and a collapsible flight bag "to take all your presents home in."

Make a list of everything you're taking for future reference, a check against leaving things behind, and, heaven forbid, "for your claim if the baggage is lost."

LEISURETIME: Men are adding style to their leisuretime wardrobe, reports the Men's Fashion Association, with fashions that are both good looking and practical. Left, white 100 per cent texturized polyester overshirt is cut with back and front yokes, patch flap pockets, button cuffs and side vents. It's worn with classic knit 65 per cent polyester-35 per cent cotton emerald short-sleeve polo shirt and white, emerald and navy 100 per cent polyester linen-look slacks with Western-style pockets. Right, the 100 per cent cotton Henley-style knit shirt features navy and white printed stripes that are broken by a double red narrow stripe.

First Female Paramedic Opens Door For Women

NEW YORK — "I'm a paramedic, not a woman who is a paramedic," asserts Laurie Knop, Los Angeles' first female paramedic, in the June issue of "Seventeen" magazine.

In order to enter her field, Laurie, 21, fought hospital administrators for admission to a paramedic internship, appealed on national television for the chance to do her chosen work, and finally, battled a male chauvinist partner in her first months on the job. Because of her tenacity, Laurie succeeded.

Now other women are joining her.

The paramedical field is less than 10 years old and is growing rapidly. Paramedics are trained to treat victims at the scene of an emergency, taking instructions by phone from a nurse or doctor at a nearby hospital. Because the patient receives immediate treatment instead of having to wait until arrival at a hospital, many lives that might otherwise be lost are saved.

To become a paramedic, one must take two training courses, EMT-1 (emergency medical training) and EMT-2. EMT-1 is a six-month course, permits graduates to give artificial respiration and do mouth to mouth breathing and heart resuscitation. E-2 takes between six months and two years to complete and enables paramedics to administer cardiac treatment and drugs as directed by a doctor and start intravenous equipment. Courses may cost up to $500 for EMT-1 and $1,500 for EMT-2 at private hospitals, though EMT-1 is free at city colleges.

More than 220 counties in the United States offer paramedic programs, although legislation as to what paramedics may do varies from state to state. Once in the field, paramedics can expect to earn from $8,500 to $10,500 annually as an EMT-1 graduate, and from $9,500 to $20,500 as an E-2 graduate.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Children Not God's Gift?

Dear Ann Landers: I am writing regarding your recent column "Ten Rules For Raising Children." I would appreciate an explanation regarding Rule No. 1: "Remember that a child is a gift from God..."

Do you truly believe that the good Lord sends a "gift" to the abusive mother, the prostitute, the unwed teenager, not to mention the millions of disadvantaged who can't feed the children they already have and certainly don't need another "gift"?

Do you also believe that He deprives the multitude of individuals who so dearly want this "gift"?

Perhaps you should set your readers straight and tell them that Nature plays the greatest role in determining who is to have and who is NOT to have children. I feel confident that God would not waste His time sending "gifts" to those who do not want them. — One Who Has Been There.

Dear One: I do not believe God gift-wraps babies and sends them via United Parcel to individuals whom He wishes to favor.

I do, believe, however, that the miracle of life in itself is proof that there is a God. Only a greater power could have dreamed up something so unique and so biologically perfect as Man and Woman.

Just imagine — of the billions of people who have been born since the beginning of time, no two humans were exactly alike!

When I say, "Remember that a child is a gift of God," I mean there is the magic of God in every human — yes, even if his mother was a prostitute, or unwed or disadvantaged. People need to be reminded that every new life is a miracle.

Creep 'N Pretzels

Dear Ann Landers: Why don't you get out of that ivory tower or that hazy loft — or wherever it is that you write your column?

You advise kids who write to you about their problems. "Talk to your guidance counselor."

Well, we have two guidance counselors in our school. One is a creep and the other is so busy polishing her nails, talking on the phone and eating pretzels that she doesn't have any time for us.

My cousin who lives 50 miles from here goes to a school that doesn't even have a guidance counselor. So why don't you give these kids the help they need? — Turned Off

Dear Off: First, the parents in your school should get together and see to it that the "creep" and the "pretzel eater" are replaced. Second, the next letter might be of some interest to you:

Someone Cares

Dear Ann Landers: Our school is rather small. We don't have a guidance counselor. But we do have an English teacher who is one of the neatest ladies who ever lived.

Whenever I have a problem I ask her for a few minutes of her time. She has never failed me. I feel so close to her, almost like she is my older sister. She can tell if I'm upset or angry or down. Sometimes she even asks me to stay and tell her what's bugging me.

So maybe if those kids who don't like their counselors (or don't have one) would go to a teacher they really like, it would accomplish the same thing. — Grateful

It's not always easy to recognize love, especially the first time around. Acquaint yourself with the guidelines. Read Ann Landers's booklet, "Love or Sex and How to Tell the Difference." Your Birthday

Saturday, June 4

You could be fortunate this year with situations you personally control. This does not mean you should advocate your leadership role unnecessarily.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Because things seem relatively easy today, you may be prone to let up too quickly. For this reason you may not capitalize on opportunities.

TAURUS (April 20-May 19) Your material prospects are good today, but unless you follow through your piggybank won't have the bulge you hoped for.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Even though you may be involved in a commercial venture with a friend today, keep things businesslike. Slipshod practices won't work out too well.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You treat others kindly today, but not in a way they truly appreciate. For some reason you fail to comprehend what they really want from you.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) The approval of others is not a prime requisite for your doing a good job today. Pride in what you do should be ample motivation.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

Good fortune attends most of the things you put your hand to today, with the exception of business situations that entail an element of risk.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Doing unselfish things shows your heart is in the right place today. Sadly, others may not wholly approve of your gestures at this moment.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Success will favor your actions today provided you deal with persons who can give you a definite answer. Going through underlings is another story.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) There's a probability you'll gain financially through hard work today. Just don't try to set a record by seeing how fast you can spend it.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Appeal to the reason and logic of those you're trying to manage today. Playing on their emotions will bring unacceptable results.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Today you get by giving. The moment you try to attach conditions to your generosity, you stand to lose what you could have gained.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Enjoy yourself today, but strive to do it economically. Should you spend too much for pleasure tonight, you'll cry tomorrow.

To find out more about yourself, send for your copy of Bernice Osol's Astro-Graph Letter. Mail 50 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify your birth sign.

the other for the "cure" of hernias.

A hernia is an anatomical defect. It is possible to keep some hernias in the groin from bulging, with properly fitted trusses. These trusses do not cure.

Surgery is the only way to cure a hernia. Before you get involved even in the purchase of a truss, consult your own doctor in order to be sure that a simple hernia does not become complicated by neglect.

What causes pins-and-needles sensations in the legs during the day? I also get muscle cramps at night. Could they be related to each other? — Mr. L.W., Conn.

Dear Mr. W.: Tingling sensations known as "paresthesias" and muscle cramps may be related. They both seem to suggest some impairment in the circulation of the blood in the arteries.

Tobacco is often suspected as an offender and possible reason for such discomfort.

A general examination, including a study of the circulatory system, may reveal the underlying reason for your discomfort.

Dr. Lester Coleman

My daughter fell off her bicycle six weeks ago. She scraped and bruised her wrist, her knees and her chin. Now she is left with discolorations that look almost like tattoo marks. Can anything be done about this? — Mrs. H. F., Ore.

Dear Mrs. F.: What you describe is referred to as a "traumatic tattoo." Small particles of dirt, carbon, steel and other substances can become embedded in the skin after such an accident.

Doctors who treated gunshot wounds and wounds from explosives developed special techniques by which they microscopically removed these embedded particles.

I cannot speculate if your child is still a candidate for such a treatment. I suggest, however, that you consult with a doctor interested in traumatic medicine and find out if your daughter still can benefit from this specialized treatment.

Do you know anything about a ball valve pressure instrument for hernias? I saw it in a magazine, but don't want to buy it if it's no good. It is expensive. — Mr. O.V., Maine

Dear Mr. V.: Millions of dollars are poured into the hands of those who manufacture and sell "miracle" cures and gadgets for hernias.

It is astonishing how gullible even intelligent people can be. I haven't heard of the particular machine that you refer to, but I assume that it is no different from the many other highly touted ones that are still on the market. One is as ineffective as

Dinner At Home

Remember when eating out was a big thrill?

Boy, I remember the first time I ate in a fancy restaurant. You just knew it was class. They didn't have toothpicks by the cash register or a sign that said, "WATCH YOUR HAT AND COAT."

"The novelty has worn off now and it's a way of life. Children coming and going... husband working odd hours... the convenience of yelling into a clown's mouth and two minutes later driving off with your order, has made eating out a ritual.

The family, as it used to be where Daddy went to work and Mama stayed at home all day, describes only seven out of every 100 households in the United States.

It's probably only a matter of time before eating at home will become the treat eating out used to be. Just imagine...

"Robbie, where do you want to go for your birthday Tuesday?"

Robbie's eyes light up and he grins. "Could we eat at home?" Mother's eyes meet her husband's. "We can afford it, can't we, Jim? After all, it's his birthday."

"Sure," says Daddy. "What the heck. We can splurge one day of the year."

"How nice you all look," says Mother on the night of the dinner. "I'm so used to seeing all of you slopping around in grub clothes when we eat out. Everyone come to dinner."

"Isn't it great?" say the kids excitedly. "Not having to look at menus and make all those decisions? Do we want the secret sauce? The sesame seed bun? The extra crispy? The two-pounder? The melted cheese? This is really neat."

"Hey, look at this," says one of the kids. "What do you call 'em'?"

"Silverware," says Mother. "I thought you'd get a kick out of it."

"I'd like a malt with two scoops," says Robbie.

"There's no need to prop my mouth open with a fork and shout into it," says Mother, smiling. "I'll get it for you."

"What's for dessert?" "It's not apple pie."

"How did you do that without a little red light?"

"I took it out of the oven."

"What will they think of next?"

As the family sings "Happy Birthday," Robbie says, "It's nice not having a bunch of strangers in headbands around the table singing. We'll have to do this again — maybe next year."

As Mother tosses the china noisily into the trash barrel, she smiles and says, "This WAS fun. I'd almost forgotten how nice it is to eat at home."

She crawls up between the Golden Arches around the stove and advances the number of hamburgers served to ONE MILLION, TWO HUNDRED SEVENTY-FIVE THOUSAND.

We are indebted to Chester Billings for today's hand which helped two old friends of ours, the late Bob Dunningham and the late George Alderton, win a 1963 Regional open pairs.

George won the club lead with his ace and after looking over dummy saw that he could make six if the king of hearts and the queen of diamonds were placed right for him. Then he studied a little more, noted that game would probably not be reached at a good many tables and decided to play absolutely safe for this contract. So he drew trumps and promptly led a low diamond toward dummy. It didn't matter what West did. Actually, he ducked, whereupon George led a second diamond and knocked out the queen.

West led back a low heart. George continued his safe play by putting in the nine from dummy. Later on, he got to chuck dummy's queen of hearts on his fourth diamond and wound up as the only declarer to bring four spades home.

SIRHAN SIRHAN
He Wants To Know

Sirhan Still 'Can't Remember'

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer
SOLVEDAD, Calif. (AP) — Sirhan Sirhan says a return visit to the kitchen of the Ambassador Hotel might help him remember the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

"He keeps trying to visualize it, and he can't," said Sirhan's lawyer, Godfrey Isaac. "He wants to know himself, did he, or did he not kill Senator Kennedy?"

Sirhan's request to visit the Los Angeles hotel came during a three-hour meeting with two Los Angeles County Supervisors.

Kenneth Hahn and Baxter Ward traveled to Solvedad Prison in Central California Thursday at Sirhan's invitation. They were the first officials to question him since he was convicted of the Kennedy killing in 1969.

Sirhan, gun in hand, was grabbed as Kennedy fell in the Ambassador kitchen on June 5, 1968. The senator had just claimed victory in California's primary for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Sirhan has insisted ever since that he remembers nothing between the time he entered the hotel to the time he was pinned to a steam table by his captors. He held to that position on Thursday.

"I tried to ask him several times about his motive," Hahn said as he left the prison. "I asked if anyone else was involved — that's the big question. He said 'I can't remember. I can't remember.'"

The county board of supervisors has been investigating the Sirhan case for some time, trying to determine whether anyone else might have motivated or helped the Palestinian refugee.

"There is a blank in Sirhan's mind," Hahn said. "If we could uncover that, we might have the clue to many of these mysteries."

Hahn and Ward said they believe it might be worthwhile to have Sirhan hypnotized.

Isaac said he would visit Sirhan again in a week to discuss the possibility of further psychiatric treatment and hypnosis.

"There is still more to be known," said Hahn. "The investigation is not through. I hope we can have the medical authorities pull back the curtain in his mind."

Sirhan is eligible for parole in 1985.

THAT'S BREAKFAST: Daughters of Victor Herman, 61, enjoy their first Michigan breakfast Thursday. Janna, 20, (middle) and Svetlana, 25, tasted coffee, grapefruit, potato chips with dip, pop and corned beef sandwiches. The girls wanted to try everything," said Herman. The young women arrived in the U.S. from Russia Saturday. (AP Wirephoto)

Russian Daughters Dig In To A Real Yankee Meal

OAK PARK, Mich. (AP) — For the daughters of a man returned from Siberian exile, breakfast presents a chance to taste a some distinctly American foods.

The breakfast Thursday included brownies, lemon cake, corned beef sandwiches, potato chips and dip, soda pop and coffee.

"The girls wanted to try everything," said Victor Herman as his daughters, Svetlana, 25, and Janna, 20, buckled down to serious eating in the dinette of their row house in this Detroit suburb.

Most of the food had been brought in by friends the night before.

The daughters followed the Russian custom of not touching anything until they had finished their coffee.

But they broke the Russian custom of saving fruit to last, digging into the grapefruit midway through. It was the first time they had seen it.

A native of Detroit, Herman, 61, went to Russia with his parents and other Ford Motor Co. employees in 1931 to help build an auto plant. He became a noted athlete. Later, he survived 28 years in prison and exile before winning the right to come back to America last year. His daughters arrived in New York over the weekend. Now Herman hopes to bring over his wife, Galina, and her 87-year-old mother.

As the women prepared for a day of visiting relatives in the area, Svetlana, still in her green robe, was asked what she wanted to do now.

"I want to see the country, maybe go to Disneyland, get good work and make a good wife," she said. Asked the same question, Janna answered, "Same answer."

The women hope to take courses in computer programming. Herman says he will support them on his money from lectures and the proceeds from two books.

Herman said he was subject to discrimination and harassment from the time he tried to leave Russia in 1962. His family suffered discrimination because he is Jewish and his wife is not.

"In Russia, Jews are considered a nationality, even if not religious," he said.

"My daughter (Janna) passed a college entrance examination with the highest marks. But a woman came to the house and said she would not be admitted because she was a Jew. When we showed college officials her passport, which indicated she was Russian, they accepted her."

He said harassment of his family increased over the past year and when the daughters finally got their tickets, "They were stripped and searched. Officials confiscated several going-away presents."

Stay Out, Governor Tells Mob

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Warning mobsters to "keep your filthy hands out of Atlantic City," Gov. Brendan Byrne signed legislation that could make this declining seashore resort the Las Vegas of the East Coast.

"Organized crime is not welcome in Atlantic City," Byrne declared Thursday amid a festival-like atmosphere on the famous Boardwalk as he signed a bill legalizing casino gambling.

"And I warn them again: Keep your filthy hands out of Atlantic City — keep the hell out of our state."

Bands played "Happy Days are Here Again" and "On the Boardwalk in Atlantic City" and balloons drifted under a muggy overcast. Hula dancers entertained thousands of residents, politicians on the hustings and city hall workers, who had been given a half day off.

U.S., Cuba Swapping Diplomats

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States announced today that it will exchange diplomats with Cuba for the first time in 16 years.

"We have agreed with the Cubans to exchange interest sections," State Department spokesman John Tattner said.

He said the Carter administration would make a formal announcement later today and would provide additional details on the first exchange of diplomats between the two countries since Dwight D. Eisenhower sat in the White House.

Exchange of diplomats is a major step toward renewing ties with the Marxist government of Fidel Castro that were severed in 1961, largely on the grounds that Cuba was exporting revolution in the Western Hemisphere.

The State Department was chosen by President Carter to make the formal announcement. The administration already has eased some travel and spending restrictions for Americans and has reached a maritime boundaries agreement with President Castro.

Carter decided to proceed with the diplomatic exchange even while Cubans are involved in the internal affairs of Africa. Only a few days ago the State Department confirmed that 50 military technicians had been sent into Ethiopia. A large Cuban force remains in Angola.

The American diplomats will set up an "interest section" within the Swiss embassy in Havana, with a counselor heading the delegation. An equal number of Cubans, probably less than a dozen, will be housed in the Czechoslovakian embassy here.

Since the break in relations, the Swiss flag has flown over the former U.S. embassy in the Cuban capital and the Czech flag over the two Cuban buildings here.

Although formal relations may be a long way off, the diplomats will be in charge of a full range of activities between the two countries. U.S. officials said one objective of the exchange is to reunite families who became separated in the 16 years of hostility between the two countries.

Details of the diplomatic exchange were worked out in New York by U.S. and Cuban negotiating teams. Carter said on Tuesday that "we still have a lot of differences between us, but that full friendship" with Cuba was an ultimate goal.

"We'll move as fast as they will," the President said, while taking a walk in his hometown of Plains, Ga., before returning to the White House from a Memorial Day weekend vacation.

Eisenhower broke relations with the Castro government on Jan. 3, 1961, just 17 days before he left office. Relations had cooled between the two countries after Castro toppled the rightist Batista regime in 1959.

Under President John F. Kennedy, the United States supported an economic boycott of Cuba and approved the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion.

DETROIT (AP) — A retired grocery store cashier won the top prize of $107,000 Thursday in the weekly Michigan Lottery drawing.

Genevieve Borowski, 80, of Hamtramck, said she would use her winnings "to begin to plan for my future."

Mrs. Borowski said her winning was "just a matter of luck."

Other winners were: Steve Tyminski, 52, of Toledo, a tool and gauge inspector, $14,000; Donnie Powell, 78, of Detroit, a retiree, $12,000; Wally Wier, 63, of Livonia, a grinder, $11,000; Donald Bowen, 52, of Ortonville, a laid-off machinist helper, $5,000; Joseph Sokolowski, 55, of Detroit, a machinist, $5,000; Allen Harper, 36, of Fostoria, Ohio, who won $114,000 in the lottery last week, was bumped from contention this week.

63 MPH Seems OK

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The speed limit is 55 miles an hour, but a state official has confirmed that highway drivers going 63 m.p.h. won't be ticketed.

"You can probably figure on 63 and not get a ticket, although you might get stopped," said Gerald Hough, director of the state police, during an interview on WKAR-TV Thursday.

State police policy is to enforce the 55 m.p.h. speed law when motorists are caught driving 60 m.p.h., Hough said. But, he acknowledged, "I doubt if anybody gets ticketed at less than 65."

State police surveys show that Michigan motorists average slightly faster than 62 m.p.h., Hough said, except on the stretch of Interstate 96 between Brighton and Detroit.

There, speeds average about 64 m.p.h., he said.

Congress Pulls The Plug On Carter Energy Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is pulling the plug on the Carter administration's proposal to give the head of a proposed new department of energy sweeping powers to set fuel prices.

Even though congressional enactment of the new Cabinet agency is expected, both houses have agreed to limit sharply the authority of the new energy secretary, expected to be presidential energy adviser James R. Schlesinger.

Some members claimed the original Carter proposal would give Schlesinger and his successors too much power, turning them into "energy czars."

The administration contends the secretary must have broad authority if the nation is to deal effectively with the energy crisis.

The House, expected to complete action on its version of the bill today, voted Thursday to give power to regulate natural gas prices to a commission within the new department, instead of to the energy secretary as Carter proposed. The commission's decisions could not be overturned by either the energy secretary or the president.

The decision, on a vote of 238-119, was a major setback for the administration, since the Senate already has approved a similar approach.

The step appears to foreclose any possibility, even in the compromise version that will be drafted to reconcile differences between the House and Senate bills, that Schlesinger will have the price-setting powers that Carter sought to give the new secretary.

In a move further diminishing the powers of the energy secretary, the House also voted 208-125 to give Congress power to veto rules and regulations issued by the new agency. The Senate bill contains no such provision.

The amendment to deny the energy secretary authority over natural gas prices, proposed by Rep. John Moss, D-Calif., received strong bipartisan support. The bill's manager Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Texas, argued unsuccessfully that it would "hamstring the ability of the secretary to establish a national energy policy."

Meanwhile, the Republican party in an NBC Energy special tried to use a new format on an old problem, how to state the case of the party without a president and avoid putting the

FAILS IN MAJOR GOALS Economic Summit Ends

PARIS (AP) — The 18-month Conference on International Economic Cooperation ended early today without achieving either the continuing energy dialogue the industrial nations wanted or a concrete start on the new international economic order sought by the developing nations.

Spokesmen for both sides stressed in a final news conference the limited achievements of the "North-South" dialogue between the major industrial nations and 19 developing countries. But there was no attempt to gloss over the failures after a final 40-hour negotiating session.

The conference reached two major agreements: to set up a $1 billion fund for emergency aid to the poorest countries and to negotiate a Common Fund to stabilize prices of major raw materials produced by the developing nations.

There were also agreements to help Africa develop its communications and transportation, to help increase food production in the Third World and to boost the general level of foreign aid.

But "the West got nothing here," one senior official commented.

The United States and the other industrial nations sought a permanent organization for continuing dialogue with the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Nations in hopes of exerting a moderating influence on oil prices in the future.

Conference sources said Saudi Arabia and Iran lobbied hard for the U.S. proposal, but Algeria, Iraq and Venezuela refused to go along. They were seconded by Third World producers of other raw materials who hope OPEC's oil power will be used as a bargaining counter on their behalf.

The energy dialogue was the West's primary aim in proposing the negotiations two years ago after OPEC trebled prices.

PBB Bill Debate 2 Weeks Away

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee will begin debate on crucial PBB legislation the week after next at the earliest. Sen. Jerome Hart, D-Saginaw and chairman of the panel, said Thursday that the committee's schedule is filled with budget bills for the next several weeks and it has little time for the PBB measure.

Hart said the panel would "try to work it in" the week of June 13, but it may have to wait longer. The bill, designed to keep PBB-tainted cattle off the market and cows with PBB in their milk out of production, was sent to the Appropriations Committee Thursday for a fiscal analysis.

Its authors estimate it will cost between $33 million and $44 million. It would require the testing of cows before they are sold for slaughter and the isolating of cows showing traces of PBB — polybrominated biphenyl, a fire-retardant chemical — in their milk. Hart said he and other members of his committee favored the bill, particularly over a House-passed version which, he said, would cost more money. And he said he aimed to approve the bill before the legislature goes on summer vacation in July.

$68,000 Deficit Sparked Firing Of Fair Manager

By LARRY McDERMOTT
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Michigan agriculture director says he first became dissatisfied with the state fair's operations last month when he found out there were unpaid bills and a $68,000 deficit.

Agriculture Director B. Dale Ball testified at a court hearing Thursday on a restraining order obtained last week to stop Ball from removing Lester Lund, manager of the state fair.

Ball placed Lund on administrative leave with pay after the Michigan State Fair Authority recommended his removal.

Three of the four authority members approved a resolution last month recommending Lund's removal, and Ball sent the manager a telegram last Friday telling him to leave the fairgrounds in Detroit and not return "until further notice."

Lund went to Ingham County Circuit Court to block the action and was granted a restraining order. He stayed on the job this week.

At Thursday's show cause hearing, authority Chairman Ernest Griebach of Detroit said the resolution asking for Lund's removal was adopted because members were dissatisfied with his handling of financial matters and his plan to eliminate the horse show from the 1978 fair. The horse show is a popular but money-losing venture, Lund has said. But under questioning, Griebach admitted Lund wasn't directly responsible for managing the fair's budget.

Ball said he learned this spring that Allan Hull, then chief accountant for the fair, wasn't paying the fair's bills. Instead, he said, Hull was using the money to continue paying employees' salaries.

Ball also said he did not learn until last month that a plan by Lund to persuade a national hamburger chain to sponsor free tickets for children. He said that instead of the 45-cent-a-ticket payment the state would have gotten from midway operators as part of the contract for operating at the fair, children admitted free were not accounted for and the state was about to lose a potential $20,000.

The midway operators agreed to pay the state $10,000 even though it could show no proof that the children were admitted free, Ball said.

"It was like dropping money down a crack," Ball said. "You can do that a few times, but if you do it too many, you go broke."

Lund is expected to take the stand Monday when the hearing continues.

Woman Vindicated, But It's Too Late

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Delores Price, convinced her neighbors thought she stole money raised for her crippled daughter, slashed her wrists with scissors and a dull razor blade.

A message scrawled with lipstick on a bathroom mirror read, "I didn't do it."

On Thursday, a professional fundraiser, Carol Grudzinski, was convicted of the crime that drove Mrs. Price to suicide a year ago.

Miss Grudzinski, 34, was convicted in a non-jury trial of theft and other crimes in connection with bingo games, gambling and other fundraising activities billed as benefits for Pamela Price, 18, a victim of cerebral palsy.

The prosecution never said how much money was raised for Pamela. One witness testified he contributed $35,000. A bank official testified Miss Grudzinski made a single deposit of $2,000 in checks to a trust account in Pamela's name.

Miss Grudzinski showed no emotion when Judge Charles Durham announced his verdict. Last week she ran crying from the courtroom when Pamela was brought to the stand in a wheel chair.

The Price family's association with Miss Grudzinski began in late 1975. Because the fundraiser had earlier had set up an organization called Future of Philadelphia, purportedly to raise funds for the handicapped, Pamela's father, Martin Price, asked her help to raise money for an operation for Pamela.

According to the charges, bingo games and casino nights billed as benefits for Pamela were simple gambling operations run by Future of Philadelphia for about six months, into 1976.

Pamela went to New York for an operation in December 1975. Miss Grudzinski told Price that Future of Philadelphia would foot the bills, Price testified.

The operation was only partly successful, giving Pamela control of her bladder but not the ability to walk.

PBB Blood Tests Continue

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — State health officials say they expect to complete PBB tests on blood from 2,500 people by late August as the first part of a long-term study of the chemical's health effects. The 2,500 are people enrolled so far in the study, which aims to reach about 4,000 Michigan residents eventually. About 1,000 blood tests already have been completed, officials say. But the difficulty of the testing means it will likely take until late August to finish the sampling. Testing a batch of 20 blood samples takes three to four days, said Harold Price, laboratory chief of the Department of Public Health's environmental epidemiology division.

Detroit News Editor Named

DETROIT (AP) — William E. Giles, whose career with the Wall Street Journal and National Observer spanned 25 years, has been named editor of the Detroit News, the nation's fifth largest daily newspaper. Giles, 48, succeeds Martin S. Hayden, who served as editor for 18 years before his retirement Tuesday. Giles, who joined the News last January as executive editor, also has been appointed a vice-president of the Evening News Association, which owns and operates the newspaper.

Ship Hits Berg, Sinks; All Safe

HALIFAX, Canada (AP) — All 110 passengers and crewmen of the ferry William Carson were reported rescued early today from ice floes and lifeboats after heavy ice punctured the 8,300-ton ship and it sank off the Labrador coast of northeast Canada.

The 88 passengers and 22 crew members of the Canadian National ferry were reported in good condition. Helicopters took 42 of them to Mary's Harbor, Labrador, and St. Anthony, Newfoundland, and the government icebreaker Sir Humphrey Gilbert rescued the rest, a Canadian National spokesman announced.

The Carson left St. John's, at the southeast corner of Newfoundland island, Tuesday night on its first scheduled run of the season along the Atlantic coasts of the island and Labrador.

The car-and-passenger ferry was bound for Goose Bay, in Labrador more than 500 miles northwest of St. John's.

The ship sent out an SOS at 9:43 p.m. Thursday reporting ice had ruptured its hull near the Square Islands, 18 miles off the Labrador coast. Thirty minutes later another message said the passengers and crew were abandoning ship.

The ferry sank about three hours later. With it went 1,900 tons of general cargo, including 4,332 cases of beer.

George Pike, a crewman among those taken to the nursing station at Mary's Harbor, said there was time for everyone who had gone to bed to dress and there was no panic. Pike said despite heavy ice in the area, the air temperature was moderate and there was a full moon.

The first helicopter arrived after midnight, he said. Some of the stranded crew members lighted flares, and two Canadian Air Force planes from Prince Edward Island arrived to illuminate the area with searchlights and flares for the rescue.

The icebreaker arrived about 3 a.m.

The Carson was Canada's most prized icebreaking car ferry when it went into service in 1958 in the Cabot Strait between Nova Scotia and Newfoundland. In 1961, it was caught in the heaviest icepack in the strait in 75 years, and it took it a week to make the 90-mile trip.

The ship was shifted last year to the Canadian National's northern service to Labrador.

The village of Goose Bay, 130 miles inland at the head of Lake Melville, exists because of its radio station, used by transatlantic commercial flights, and the lumber industry. It has no road or rail connection with the rest of Canada and most supplies reach the village by coastal ship.

Brandywine Voters Asked To Okay 2.5-Mill Hike

NILES — Brandywine school district voters will be asked to approve a 2.5-mill property tax increase in the annual election on June 13.

Also on the ballot will be the names of three candidates for two, four-year school board posts. One of the candidates, however, is moving from the district and has said he is not an active candidate.

If the 2.5-mill levy, sought for two years, is approved, the district's total tax rate will increase to 32.376 mills, Michael Holtgren, assistant superintendent, said. The added millage is expected to raise an estimated $100,000 in local tax revenue and another $143,000 in state aid, he said.

The school district's tentative 1977-78 operating budget of $3.3 million hinges on approval of the 2.5-mill proposal, Holtgren added.

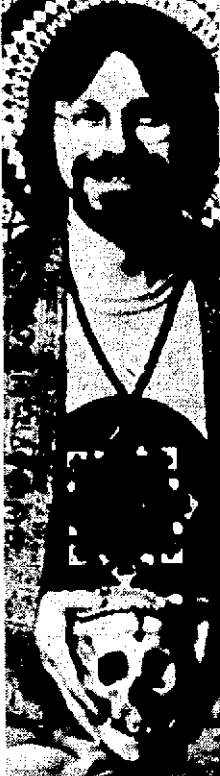

The three candidates on the ballot are incumbent Ellwin Coulston, and Robert Jessen, and John Bittle. Incumbent Thomas Clarke is not seeking re-election.

Jessen has announced he is not an active candidate for the post and plans to move from the school district. Jessen is 41 and lives at 2720 Adams road, Niles.

Coulston, 53, is a 15-year member of the school board. He lives at 1326 Lawndale avenue, Niles.

Bittle, 34, was an unsuccessful candidate for the school board in 1976. He lives at 2710 South 13th street, Niles.

Youth Lib Founder Has-Been At 22, But He's Still Fighting

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — As the founder of Youth Liberation Inc., Keith Hefner and his friends championed the cause of children's liberation.

But now at the age of 22, Hefner is a has-been. Everyone seems to have abandoned the cause except him. The others grew up.

At age 15, Hefner and some friends became interested in radical politics "like everyone else in Ann Arbor," home of the University of Michigan.

"We couldn't go to political meetings because we couldn't drive. And even if we lived close enough to walk, our parents wouldn't let us go," said Hefner, the bright, articulate son of two psychologists. "We realized we were oppressed just like the blacks, like women and the Vietnamese."

Hefner and his pals spread the word through a magazine called Youth Rising and a publication called "FPS: A Magazine of Youth Liberation."

They advocated giving children the vote.

"They said children ought to be able to 'divorce' their parents and receive alimony."

They supported the idea of giving jobs to children, with the right to receive welfare or unemployment benefits.

"Youth Rising" and "FPS," initials standing for an obscene reference to public schools, came out frequently. Hefner decided not to go to college so he could devote all his time to

Machine Sharing Disputed

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The sharing of automated teller machines by two nationally chartered banks in Michigan does not appear to be proper, according to the state's banking commissioner.

Richard Francis, commissioner of the Financial Institutions Bureau, said this week that his office is taking steps to prevent banks from sharing the operations. Francis asked the attorney general to help him enforce state law prohibiting the practice.

The two banks are National Lumberman's Bank & Trust of Muskegon and National Bank & Trust Co. of Traverse City. The two began a plan in January under which customers can use coded cards from one bank to withdraw funds from an automated teller machine at the other bank.

"There is no question that this program enables customers to conveniently withdraw funds from their accounts when away from home," Francis said. "However, there is a serious question as to whether their use in this manner is proper."

Under state law, banks cannot share in a systematic manner their facilities for taking deposits, cashing checks and lending money. The Muskegon and Traverse City banks had drawn up a contract for the shared system.

DEATH POSE: Edward Nylander posed for this photograph days before his charred remains, sitting in a similar yoga position with a skull on his lap, were found in a cave beside an empty gasoline can. On April 1 he mailed 10 friends packets containing a meticulously printed, single-page letter and a copy of this photograph. The county coroner has ruled that the 29-year-old son of a retired Air Force sergeant committed suicide. (AP Wirephoto)

LOCAL-STATE
NATIONALMACMA Names
Asking Scale
For Cherries

The Michigan Agricultural Cooperative Marketing Association (MACMA) has announced its 1977 asking price for tart cherries based on the size of crop harvest. The scale ranges from 30.4 cents a pound for a national harvest of 170 million pounds, to 23.3 cents for a 230 million pound harvest.

Harry Foster, secretary of MACMA, said that preliminary MACMA estimates place the 1977 harvest in the 200 million pound range. That size harvest would call for a processing price of about 26.4 cents a pound, according to the MACMA scale.

Last year's MACMA price was originally 25 cents a pound, but the short crop drove processors' bids between 27 and 30 cents, Foster said.

The MACMA figures used are the same as those set by the American Agricultural Marketing Association, MACMA's parent organization. The first official crop estimate by the U.S. Department of Agriculture will be announced June 23.

"There is a chance that cherries in the southern portion of the state will be ripe before the USDA estimate," Foster said. "We are watching the harvest in Michigan very closely to prepare our own estimate. If the harvest moves early MACMA will make sure a price is set prior to harvest."

Foster said that the 200 million figure for the nation is an increase of 1/3 to 1/2 over last year's crop.

"We're hearing slightly better figures for the Michigan totals," Foster said, "but there are wide disagreements on exact figures. Generally, we expect about a 75-80 per cent increase over last year's harvest. That would put us in the 140 to 150 million pound range."

Foster said that the low carryover from last year's tart cherry harvest makes processors eager to buy early cherries, but prices for them should not necessarily be higher.

Recommended prices based on the size of the national harvest.

Early Berry
Crop Beats
Migrants

The early strawberry harvest has left many area growers short-handed, according to the Michigan Employment Security Commission in Hartford.

"We've simply got more requests than we can fill for labor," says Jim Case of the employment service. "Word is getting back to the pickers that the berries are ripe and we expect most of the work force to make it up here by the end of this week or the beginning of next."

Much of the strawberry labor force comes from Texas, Case said, where many schools ended just last week. Children between the ages of 12 and 16, even those from Texas where classes are ended, will not be able to work for area growers during school hours while the local school system is still in session. Farmers should check on school closing dates for their area. Most schools will be closed by the end of next week, according to Case.

HONEY WRAP-UP

The Crop Reporting Board estimates U.S. honey production in 1976 at 199.8 million pounds, a gain of 1% over a year earlier. Three percent more — or 4.3 million — colonies produced the 1976 crop. Grower prices for honey dropped slightly to just below 50 cent a pound but beeswax increased 10c, to $1.12 a pound.

Summer
Pruning
Shows Set

Berrien and Van Buren county extension services will conduct meetings in the next two weeks to demonstrate summer pruning methods for cherry and peach trees. Identification of choke cherry plants, an alternate host for X-disease, will also be shown at the demonstrations.

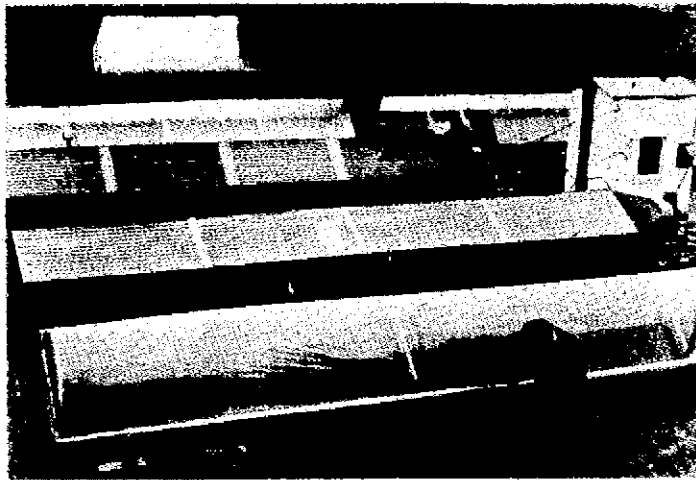

Extension Agents Mike Thomas and Harvey Belter will conduct the meeting for Berrien county to be held Monday, June 6 at 7 p.m. at the Rosenberg Brothers' farm. The farm is located 2 1/2 miles south of Naomi Road on Hillandale Road, 1/2 mile east of Sodus.

The Van Buren demonstration will be conducted by Thomas and Van Buren Extension Director Robert Earl on June 14. The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. at the Arden Winkle farm, 1/2 mile west of Hartford-Keeler Road on 66th Avenue.

Principles of pruning and training will be explained for peach and cherry trees along with identification of choke cherry plants.

Holstein Event

A Holstein-Friesian classification demonstration will be held Tuesday, June 7 at 8 p.m. at the John VanderAa farm located at the end of Watson Road, 1/2 mile north of US-12, east of Avery Road, Three Oaks. Ron Shaver of the American Holstein-Friesian Association will explain body conformation and dairy production characteristics necessary for a successful breeding program.

SOLAR EXPERIMENTS: Solar energy for agricultural use is receiving considerable attention by scientists these days. Pictured here is a research station at Iowa State University where a number of different kinds of solar ray collectors are being tested. Federal and State agricultural research stations across the nation are involved in one or more phases of the job of harnessing the sun to food production chores.

Berrien Gets Top
Corn, Soybean Yield

Berrien county led the state for 1976 soybean yield per acre and tied with Cass county for the greatest per-acre yield of corn according to the Michigan crop reporting service.

Clare Musgrove, director of the Berrien county extension service, attributes the higher yield to a combination of good conditions and good growing practices.

"Historically our yields have been good for soybeans," Musgrove says. "The soil in the area is better than average for both corn and soybeans, especially in the south end of the county. Most growers are doing a good job in seed selection, weed control, and keeping their fields fertile from the previous crop carryover."

Musgrove also said that the extension service has placed "major emphasis" on soybean production in the area for the last ten years. Familiarity with growing techniques and an early exposure to different varieties have added to Berrien county grower's success in soybean production.

Berrien county produced an average of more than 26 bushels of soybeans per acre in 1976, as compared to a statewide average of 20.5. Every county in Michigan experienced a drop in acreage yield from 1975, but the decrease in Berrien county was only half of the average decrease throughout the state.

Berrien and Cass county led acreage yield in Michigan for 1976 corn production, again showing a substantial increase over the statewide average. Per acre yield for both counties was $3.9 bushels compared to an average of .89 bushels throughout the state. Musgrove says that natural conditions and the extensive use of irrigation systems contribute to the success of area corn production.

"We weren't really hurting last year for water," Musgrove said, "but this year growers may be happy they took the time to install a good irrigation system."

Musgrove added that corn production for this year still looks good in spite of dry conditions, with more than 95 per cent of the corn planted. Many soybean growers were delaying planting in hopes of getting much needed moisture, but most plants should be in the ground by the first of June.

Food Packers
'Guesstimate'
Due June 16

The 21st annual fruit crop guesstimate will be held Thursday, June 16 at 2 p.m. at the Benton Harbor Holiday Inn on M-139.

The guesstimate is sponsored by the Michigan Frozen Food Packers Association and the chairman will be Jerry Gleason from Silver Mill Frozen Foods in Eau Claire. Participants at the meeting will present current crop information for all Michigan fruit crops. A social hour will follow the meeting.

PLANTING FIGURES REQUIRED

Acreage Controls In '78?

Southwestern Michigan grain farmers will be required to report acreage of crops this year in anticipation of set-aside legislation for 1978. Farmers must report acreage of wheat, barley, corn and grain sorghum to the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) before harvest. Farmers will have until the day before harvest to report their acreage of wheat and barley to their county ASCS office, and until August 15, 1977, to report corn and grain sorghum. Anyone failing to report acreage will be considered to have planted no acreage and may be ineligible for program benefits in 1978.

Milton Francis, director of the Berrien county ASCS office, said if there is overproduction of grain in the nation this year, that a set-aside program likely will be put into effect. He said he would not predict what form the set-aside program would follow.

According to notices received from Washington, both Congressional agricultural committees have reported out farm bills which provide that if a set-aside is implemented for 1978 crops, the acreage required to be set-aside may be based on a percentage of the acreage planned for harvest in 1977. Neither version of the bill proposes to use acreage planted in 1977 as a basis for establishing allotments.

Francis says that the set-aside was last used in 1973 and that most farmers are familiar with the procedure.

The county office at 4035 M-139 in Scottsdale is now accepting reports and random spot checks will be made to assure acreage reports are accurate.

Soil District Tree
Sales More Popular

People in the St. Joseph River district continued to take advantage of the annual tree seedling sale this year offered by the district conservation service.

Sales for 1977 ended March 31 and showed better than a 30 per cent increase from the previous year with orders for more than 50,000 seedlings, according to Adolph Dongvillo, chairman of the board of the St. Joseph district. Most orders are offered in minimum bunches of 500 seedlings for each variety or in a wildlife planting mixture of 77 plants of various varieties. Dongvillo said that the greatest increase in orders came for scotch pine seedlings.

"I think people are possibly considering scotch pines for their use as Christmas trees," Dongvillo said. "The needles don't fall off as rapidly, and it may be more familiar to people since our orders are taken soon after Christmas."

Dongvillo said that sales were not expected to be as heavy this year as in 1976.

"Last year was good because of the bicentennial celebration," says Dongvillo. "I think part of the increase is due to the fact that our service is getting well known in the area. People are also buying more than just lots now. Some of the land may be sandy or they may simply want some woods on the land."

Dongvillo added that he would like to see future sales increase for trees with more timber potential than the scotch pine. Owners would someday be able to sell their lumber to sawmills. Dongvillo says, if they plant white pine or white spruce trees on their land.

Maple Syrup Crop Increases

In spite of unusually warm conditions, Michigan's maple syrup production in 1977 was up 30 per cent from 1976 totals, according to the Michigan Crop Reporting Service.

Sugar bushes in Michigan produced 90,000 gallons of maple syrup this spring valued at more than $1.2 million. An average of 43 gallons of sap were required to make one gallon of syrup this year, five gallons less than in 1976. Warm weather in late March caused an earlier than usual end to this spring's harvest season.

Buchanan Football Coach Named Colon High's Outstanding Teacher

BUCHANAN — Michael Young may have moved from Colon to Buchanan last year to accept the varsity football coach's job, but students at Colon high school still think highly of him. Colon high's class of '77 recently named Young the winner of its Mark E. Patnode Outstanding Teacher award for 1977, according to Dr. Vanderbush, Buchanan high school principal.

The class presents the award to the teacher "who has most influenced their growth and development during their school years."

Young, 32, moved to Buchanan last fall to assume the football coaching post, and is a history and government teacher at the high school. He was at Colon for four years before moving to Buchanan. Vanderbush said of the award, "It is a special distinction for the teacher who receives the award, because the graduating class looks back over an entire four years of high school in selecting the winner."

Taxpayers Want Forms Simple

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hundreds of letters, one of them exhorting the Internal Revenue Service to "Simplify! Simplify! Simplify!" are pouring into the nation's tax offices at government request.

Officials say 470 persons so far have taken advantage of a once-a-year opportunity to tell the IRS how to run its affairs. The agency invites the suggestions as part of its annual tax form review.

Gladiolus Festival Committee Meeting Set Next Wednesday

COLOMA — The Coloma Gladiolus festival committee will meet Wednesday, June 8, beginning at 8 p.m., in the Coloma township hall, according to Louis Lodyga, festival president. Slated to be discussed during the meeting will be the festival's overall plans for the 1977 festival slated for Aug. 5-7.

Lodyga also announced that festival committee members have approved the printing of 10,000 brochures highlighting the 1977 festival activities for submission to tourist distribution points and for general festival promotion. The brochures, said Lodyga, replace place mats usually prepared outlining festival activities and used in restaurants throughout southwestern Michigan. The meeting is open to the public and interested persons or groups wishing to participate in the festival.

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Andrews University and Pioneer Memorial church here will co-sponsor an eight-week summer recreation program from June 13 through Aug. 4. The program will run Monday through Friday, 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

A university spokesman said planned activities include Red Cross swimming and diving instruction, arts and crafts, trampolining and gymnastics, skating, softball, weight training, gardening, wood and metal construction.

Registration will be June 9-10, 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in Johnson

Auditorium on the Andrews campus. Passes good for any 10 days during the eight weeks are $20, lunch included. Special prices will be available for families enrolling more than one child and for those signing up for the entire eight weeks, school officials said.

Milliken Recall Drive Fails

REED CITY, Mich. (AP) — A petition drive seeking Gov. William Milliken's recall for his handling of PBB problems has failed.

Leaders of the PBB Action Committee reached that conclusion during a meeting here.

Hilda Green of Chase, president of the predominantly farm group, said the committee failed to obtain enough signed petitions in the required 90 days. She refused to say how many signatures were collected.

In order to force a recall election for the governor, signatures are needed from 664,355 registered voters. The committee began its recall drive in March by circulating about 3,500 petitions with room for 20 names on each.

PBB is polybrominated biphenyl, a toxic fire retardant chemical that accidentally was mixed into livestock feed sold across most of the state four years ago. More than 28,000 Michigan cattle were tainted with the chemical. So far, the firms responsible have paid claims reaching almost $38 million resulting from the incident, the nation's worst livestock poisoning problem.

Stevensville Grants Tax Exemption To Cast-Matic

Stevensville village council last night voted to establish an industrial development district and approve an industrial facilities tax exemption for Cast-Matic Corp., at 2800 Yaskick drive.

The district would cover the firm's property and permit the exemption, if state approved, on a 5,200 square foot addition to a present building there.

Under the exemption, the firm would receive a 50 per cent exemption from the property tax rate on the addition for 12 years.

Frederick Shultz, president of the firm, said 10 jobs were to be added under present planning for the addition to the die cast company.

Patricia L. Roots, a consultant with the Berrien County Economic Development office, said the $57,000 addition should help the economy of the Stevensville area.

Council action came following public hearing on requests for the district and exemption approvals. The requests were submitted several months ago.

In other areas, the council voted that $100 must be included with applications for public hearings concerning proposed changes in village zoning ordinances.

Mrs. Bernice Schoenfelder, village clerk, said each hearing would be considered individually as to how much it cost the village in the way of mailings, notices, and council members salaries for the special hearings. An amount, determined by the council, would then be refunded to the hearing applicant, if the cost was less than $100.

In anticipation of the Kirk court drainage project, the council voted to cement in 34 feet of a 30-inch steel tiling on property of B.W. Yaskick, at 5513 St. Joseph Avenue, where the drain will end.

Mrs. Schoenfelder said estimated cost of the drainage project is slightly over $50,000, which will be paid for through special assessment. She said the work would be done by CETA employees. Project engineers are R.W. Petrie & Associates, Benton Harbor.

The council tabled the request of Kenneth P. Zielke of 2429 West John Beers road to establish a gas station with auto repair shop and wrecker service at 5545 Red Arrow highway until Zielke applies for a special use zone permit.

The council took no action on the request of Mr. and Mrs.

Guenther Helling of 2787 West John Beers road to build a two-story beauty shop and office building facing Fairview avenue. The Helling's were advised to submit a written application asking for a lot split and area variance if needed.

The council voted to contribute $100 to the Lakeshore Chamber of Commerce's promotional brochure expense. These brochures will be distributed at entry points on Michigan's freeway system.

The council voted to repair a driveway and clear away debris left by a November derailment of a Chessie Systems train at the home of Robert Hawlings, 5234 St. Joseph Avenue and bill the railroad for all expenses.

The council voted to keep the established rate for mowing privately owned lots at $25 minimum and $15 for each hour after the first one.

The council also voted to run water and sewer to Robert F. Delaney of 5545 Ridge road in exchange for a 50 foot wide street to a land-locked 10 acres owned by Charles "Bud" Kerlikowski. Kerlikowski said he will make known at a later date his plans for this 10 acres to benefit the Stevensville village.

Vietnam MIA List Expanded

PARIS (AP) — The Vietnamese government gave the United States a list today of 20 more missing Americans whose remains it said had been found in Vietnam. Assistant Secretary of State Richard Holbrooke, who resumed negotiations with Deputy Foreign Minister Phan Hien on Thursday on establishment of diplomatic relations between their governments, said the families of the men on the list "are being informed by their respective military services."

He said there would be no public announcement of the names until the U.S. Army's central identification laboratory in Hawaii confirmed the identifications supplied by the Vietnamese. A vigorous effort to help trace hundreds of Americans still listed as missing in action in the Vietnam War was the chief condition made by the United States for the establishment of diplomatic relations with Vietnam.

Holbrooke said Hien told him the remains of the 20 men would be returned along with the remains of two other Americans whose return was promised the special commission President Carter sent to Hanoi in March. The commission, which was headed by Leonard Woodcock, brought back the remains of 11 Americans. They were told the Vietnamese would return the remains of CIA operative Tucker Gaglianone and an unidentified B-52 crewman who was shot down during the Christmas, 1972, bombing of Hanoi.

Boy Dies Of Meningitis

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — A 4-year-old Grandville boy has died of meningitis in one of six unrelated cases of the disease Grand Rapids hospitals have reported in the past month. The victim was Marc Muller, who died Wednesday. Three other stricken children remained hospitalized while two have been released. Dr. Henry Olen, deputy director for the Kent County Health Department, said the number of cases was unusual. He blamed the cases on an organism causing respiratory infections. "It usually affects young children, infants and those younger than 3, who have not yet produced the antibodies (for immunity)," Olen reported. He said most of the local cases involved children under one year "and there is no relation between any of them." Olen said three to five days normally pass between exposure and onset of the disease. He urged prompt medical treatment for the disease, which ordinarily starts as a respiratory infection before the victim becomes irritable and develops an unexplained high fever.

Religion Questions Taboo

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Michigan Supreme Court has reversed a Kalamazoo County man's conviction of attempted rape because he was questioned at trial about his religious beliefs and his illegitimate children. In a 4-2 ruling the high court overturned the conviction of Willie Bouchee because questions about his religious attitudes prejudiced the case unfairly. Such questions violate both state law and the state constitution, the court said. State law says, for example, that "No witness may be questioned in relation to his opinions on religion, either before or after he is sworn." The intent of the constitution and the laws is to keep a person's religion or lack of it out of the decision on guilt or innocence. The Supreme Court also said the legitimacy or illegitimacy of the four children of Bouchee and his wife "is not related to the truthfulness of the parents as witnesses." Bouchee was convicted of assault with intent to rape after a young woman testified he took her to a secluded spot under the guise of a post-lunch employment interview, then tried to rape her.

Justice Is Homeless, Too

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Federal justice is not only blind but also homeless in Ann Arbor, at least for the moment. Federal officials said Thursday plans to have a satellite courtroom in the new Ann Arbor federal building have been scrapped only weeks before the building is to open. The multimillion-dollar building had included a courtroom on the fourth floor. But a special elevator shaft designed to carry the judge to his chambers has been sealed shut and some of the courtroom space reassigned to the National Weather Service operation now at Metropolitan Airport, officials said. Ann Arbor officials had hoped a federal judge from Detroit would be assigned permanently to the new building to handle cases from Washtenaw, Jackson, Lenawee, Livingston and Monroe counties.

Contempt Hearing Today

CADILLAC, Mich. (AP) — An assistant U.S. attorney says he will try today to lift contempt of court citations against three federal Food and Drug Administration officials in the state's first PBB contamination trial. Donald Davis said he would appear before Wexford County Circuit Court Judge William Peterson, who is hearing the suit. The three Washington-based officials were cited for contempt May 4 after Davis refused to have them testify at the trial. Davis said an agreement has been reached to provide the testimony Judge Peterson wants to hear. But the federal attorney would not give details of the pact before presenting them to Peterson. Those cited for contempt are Dr. Albert Kolbye, Jerry Burke and Dr. H. Dwight Mercer. Kolbye, an assistant surgeon general, is the federal agency's top official dealing with contamination by the fire-retardant chemical; Burke heads the agency's PBB testing; and Mercer has done studies of PBB's impact on human health. Before the contempt ruling was made, Davis argued federal law and FDA policy forbid employees to testify in civil cases without specific permission by the agency's director. No such approval has been granted, he said.

School Going To Four Days

FARMINGTON HILLS, Mich. (AP) — A girls' school with a lot of glass — and a lot of heat loss — plans four-day weeks next winter to cut utility costs and save energy. Students at Our Lady of Mercy High School will attend classes Mondays through Thursdays and take Fridays off, from November through March. The 20 "lost" Fridays will be made up by starting the school year 10 days earlier in August and ending it 10 days later next June, said Sister Mary Camille, principal of the 1,250-student school. The school in this Detroit suburb was built in 1965 and is heated by natural gas.

REACHES GOAL: After four years of "using my eyes a lot," Anne Kelly Davis, 22, of Burley, Idaho, was graduated from Gonzaga university in Spokane, Wash. She has 74 per cent hearing loss even with a hearing aid. (AP Wirephoto)

Watervliet Buses Are 'Painted'

WATERVLIET — Watervliet police reported that paint was sprayed on 10 Watervliet school buses, two other vehicles, and the press box at the school's athletic field overnight.

Police said a window in a shop building was also broken.

According to police, the vandalism was found after a resident reported hearing loud noises near the buses about 3 a.m. The resident said he saw someone running from the area after hearing the noises.

Kenneth Bannen, high school principal, termed the damage "very minimal." He said the number 77 was sprayed in several locations.

Bannen said several members of the graduating class had volunteered early this morning to help clean up the damage.

Suit Filed In Kentucky Club Fire

SOUTHGATE, Ky. (AP) — Ronald Schuman is badly burned and still suffers the effects of smoke inhalation. His wife, Rosalie, died in the smoky horror of the Beverly Hills Supper Club fire.

On Thursday, a $21.5 million damage suit was filed on behalf of the Bright, Ind., couple, the first of many such suits expected. Official counts say 161 persons died in the fire.

In addition, two Ohio women are reported missing by their families and friends. Dr. Fred Stine, Campbell County Coroner, said a search for their bodies would begin today. The missing women were identified as Evelyn Shough of Dayton and Judy Bohrer of Western Hills, a Cincinnati suburb.

Stine said two bodies still unidentified are not believed those of the missing women, who are elderly. The unidentified bodies are of women in their 20s or 30s, he said.

Candidate Fires On Vesco Home

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — A long-shot presidential candidate who fired more than 20 shots at financier Robert Vesco's home says he wanted to "kill the dog and stop the rabies."

Gerardo Wenceslao Villalobos hit no one Thursday in the fusillade which was recorded by a television crew he brought with him. He surrendered to the police, and officials said he would be charged with attempted homicide.

High School Fire Probed At Coloma

COLOMA — Fire in plastic sheeting that damaged a storage cabinet at Coloma high school before burning itself out is being investigated by Coloma police and firemen.

The fire in the high school art room was reported yesterday morning and is believed to have occurred sometime between Wednesday night and Thursday morning, according to Fire Chief Leonard Dolezan. The sheeting, used to store clay, was on top of the cabinet. Cause of the fire has not been determined.

Oakland Probers Look West

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP) — Police probing the Oakland County child abduction slayings are trying to determine if a Nazi sympathizer who committed suicide in Illinois had anything to do with the killings. Raymond L. Schultz, 37, of Calumet City, Ill., who died May 22, had a collection of Chicago newspaper clippings referring to the Oakland County slayings and the subsequent investigations, police said. Schultz died in Flossmoor, Ill., near Chicago after swallowing a vial of cyanide while sitting in the rear seat of a police car. He had been charged with the cyanide slaying of Sydney Cohen, a suburban businessman. Police said Schultz had "a Frankenstein-like torture chamber" outfitted in his basement room in Flossmoor. Leather restraining straps lined the walls. Bookshelves were lined with Nazi literature and dozens of Ku Klux Klan pamphlets. Police said the secret chamber in the basement also contained books on child pornography and child hygiene. The Michigan child killer is believed to have washed his victims carefully before killing them.

Turn-Of-Century Police

DETROIT (AP) — Law and order 1890s style will be the fashion in Detroit when six police officers clad in the uniforms of yesteryear take to downtown streets. Their patrol area will be Washington Boulevard, where the city's recently resurrected old-time trolley cars run each day. Robert Pisor, press secretary to Mayor Coleman Young, said the 1890-vintage police patrol was based on a similar experiment at Seattle last year. "There was a great deal of resistance to it at first, especially among the police," Pisor said. "Now we have more than 30 officers on the waiting list for the assignment." One of the main problems was how to fit police walkietalkies into the oldtime police uniform, complete with brass buttons, long billy clubs and rounded hats. Research disclosed the policeman of 1890 did not carry his gun in plain sight; instead, it was hidden under the flap of his coat. The problems were solved by having both the gun and walkie talkie worn on the outside of the uniform.

Frank Remarks Land Man In Jail

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — When asked in a man-on-the-street interview what crime he would commit if he could get away with it, Dale Shavinsky replied:

"Naturally, I'd like to rob a bank, because it's the fastest way to get a lot of money."

As a result of that interview Shavinsky is now in jail.

It turned out that Shavinsky was an escapee from the Hennepin County workhouse, where he had been sent in 1976 after he pleaded guilty to simple robbery.

He was apprehended after his picture, along with his statement on robbing banks, appeared in the Skyway News, a newspaper circulated in downtown Minneapolis.

It was read by Hennepin District Judge Allen Oleisky, who said Shavinsky's name "rang a bell" and that his "answer about the robbery struck a chord."

Shavinsky was arrested at a downtown restaurant where he was employed. The name of the

Dutch Standoff Talks Continue

ASSEN, The Netherlands (AP) — Dutch authorities and South Moluccan extremists today were again discussing the names of possible mediators to negotiate an end to the 11-day-old twin sieges in northern Holland. Wim van Leeuwen of the Justice Ministry said a government representative talked by telephone with the terrorists holding at least 33 hostages on a hijacked train north of Assen.

The two sides have again exchanged names of proposed mediators, officials said. Earlier this week the government rejected the names of two South Moluccans proposed by the terrorists, and the Moluccans rejected two proposed by the government. Dr. Dick Mulder, the psychiatrist who has handled negotiations for the government during the siege, was again conducting the telephone talks with the terrorists today.

The Dutch government is trying to end twin sieges at the train and Bovenmsilde schoolhouse, south of Assen, where four Moluccans hold four teachers hostage. There are an estimated seven to 10 terrorists on the train. One of their captives is a 23-year-old pregnant woman. The government refused the terrorists' demand that it dismantle two 50-foot masts relaying transmissions from hand television cameras scanning both sides of the train at close quarters.

"They are not going to be taken down because they're essential for the police," said Justice Ministry spokeswoman Toos Faber. The Moluccans tried to shoot out the relay equipment Thursday but failed, Mrs. Faber reported.

The terrorists seized the train and the schoolhouse May 23 but released the 105 children who were in the school last Thursday and Friday after about half of them developed a stomach ailment. Many parents now say they will not send their children back to the schoolhouse because it adjoins the South Moluccan section in Bovenmsilde.

Milliken also said at the news conference:

"He will name a replacement for former Public Service Commission William Ball 'within several weeks.' Ralls, a Democrat, resigned Wednesday to run for governor in 1978. Milliken said he hopes to have an agreement with the new commissioner that he or she will not use the office for political advancement, as Milliken thinks Ralls did.

"He's willing to look at alternative prison sites if the legislature can find them. He proposed last month that four sites be converted to house the state's burgeoning inmate population.

But the legislative committee that approves construction spending has ordered the administration to study three sites in Oakland County more closely for possible use as state prisons.

when this session is over the two-tenths of one per cent that is supposed to be dropped from the income tax, July 1st, will be lost in the shuffle. After which thousands of words will be written to justify such actions. Then the noise will gradually die out — but the tax will be there. There, I went and forgot again, — we'll probably need more new and modern prisons and jails and staffs to run same. Quite a business, right?

Gard's Teachers May Refuse To Transfer

By MIKE WYNGARDEN
Staff Writer

BERRIEN SPRINGS — The Berrien County Intermediate school board was told Thursday night that most special education teachers at Gard school in St. Joseph will refuse to transfer to the intermediate district next year because they might be forced to take pay cuts of $1,300 to $3,000 a year. Mrs. Sue Burda, president of the Berrien County Association for Retarded Children, said this refusal would force the board to hire an entirely new staff of special education teachers at Gard, which "will be very difficult for the children to adjust to."

Mrs. Burda, representing parents of mentally handicapped students at Gard, asked the intermediate board to consider hiring the teachers under a "grandfather clause" which would keep them at their present pay until the intermediate district salary schedule is comparable.

At the present time, the 16 special education teachers at Gard are paid under a contract with the St. Joseph school district through funds supplied by the intermediate district and the Michigan Department of Education. Next year, when the intermediate district takes over direct control of special education at Gard, the teachers would be paid under a contract with the intermediate district that has been negotiated by the Berrien Intermediate Education Association. Their present contract was negotiated by the St. Joseph Education Association.

Intermediate Supt. Raymond Sreboth said all 16 teachers at Gard have been offered jobs for next year by the intermediate district, but that the teachers must decide by June 30 whether they will accept the jobs or find other teaching jobs. High seniority teachers at Gard could take other positions in the St. Joseph district by bumping lower seniority teachers.

Sreboth said the difference in salaries between the St. Joseph and intermediate district could change because the Berrien Intermediate Education Association is negotiating a new contract for the 1977-78 school year that would include Gard teachers who transfer. But one Gard teacher, Mrs. Ben (Lillian) Standen, told the board last night that the result of intermediate district contract negotiations would not be known by the June 30 deadline for transferring and "we'd have to sign blind." She said only two of the 16 Gard teachers are planning to transfer at the present time.

Mrs. Burda suggested problem could be solved by hiring Gard teachers under a "grandfather clause" that would maintain their present salaries, but Sreboth said he could not comment on that suggestion because of the current negotiations with intermediate district teachers.

In other action, the board voted to hire Sandra Porter of Berrien Springs and Charlene Miller of Buchanan as secretaries for the intermediate special education program, and Patricia Opalski of Benton Harbor as a school social worker. All three women will work at the intermediate school district office in Berrien Springs.

Allegan Prison Ruling Delayed

ALLEGAN — The hearing for an Allegan county citizens' group's suit to try and stop the state from acquiring St. Augustine seminary for use as a prison has been adjourned until next Wednesday.

Yesterday in Allegan county circuit court, Lewis Drain, a Grand Rapids attorney representing the Prison Action Committee, charged that the state should be stopped from acquiring the 550-acre seminary site until the state has supplied reports and information under the Freedom of Information Act.

Circuit Court Judge George Corsiglia took the request for a preliminary injunction under consideration and adjourned the 2½-hour hearing until next Wednesday.

The Prison Action Committee is a group of Saugatuck and Holland area residents who don't want the seminary turned into a medium security prison for some 400 inmates. The seminary and its grounds are located in Laketown township.

Gov. William Milliken has proposed acquiring the seminary for about $4 million and spending another $2 million for renovation to ease prison crowding. The seminary is one of four Milliken-recommended sites under consideration for conversion to prisons.

Drain alleged yesterday that PAC members have been unable to obtain copies of the environmental impact statement prepared by the state and have been frustrated in efforts to obtain other information in connection with the proposed conversion of the seminary.

Mark Blumer, one of three attorneys representing the state, said the Open Meetings law and the Freedom of Information Act "...were not designed to put a bludgeon in the hands of citizens trying to block a proper state action."

Meanwhile, Associated Press reported that a state legislative committee yesterday ordered a closer look at three Oakland county sites as possible locations for future state prisons.

The wire service said the committee ordered the Department of Management and Budget to come back in three weeks with more details on the feasibility of using the Clinton Valley Center mental hospital, Proud Lake Recreation area or a Michigan State University facility in Rochester as prison sites.

Rep. Russell Hellman (D-Dollar Bay), chairman of the Joint Capital Outlay Committee, said the panel will probably take action next Thursday on a proposal to turn the Allegan county seminary into a prison, AP reported.

But in referring to the Oakland county sites as possible prison locations, AP quoted Hellman as saying "The governor should be getting the message we are not all that satisfied with his suggestions (for prison sites)."

STUDENT-BUILT HOUSE: Three-bedroom home east of Stevensville was built by combined building trades classes of St. Joseph and Lakeshore high schools under direction of instructor William Purdy. Open house will be held Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. at location on Dennis drive block north of John Beers road. Project was financed through interest free loan provided by St. Joseph Savings and Loan association. Asking price of $44,900 was set for house by occupation advisory committee made up of 11 representatives of area businesses and school.

Chikaming OKs Water Fee Hike

LAKESIDE — The Chikaming township board last night approved water rate increases unveiled at a public hearing earlier this week.

The increases, from 20 per cent to 50 per cent for the majority of the township's 1,300 water customers, became effective in July and will be reflected in August billings, township officials said.

Township Supervisor Donald Peterson said Tuesday, during a public hearing on the proposed increase, that the township must improve its water revenue in order to qualify for a federal loan to connect into Lake township's water system.

Linkup construction is expected to cost about $100,000 and water from Lake township will cost an estimated $15,000 to $20,000 yearly, Peterson said.

Under the new rates, big water users are hit the hardest, but for an estimated 94 per cent of the homes, which use under 10,000 gallons monthly, the rate increases will be between $1 and $4.25 monthly.

The present rate is $9.50 monthly for those who use between 7,501 and 10,000 gallons monthly. The new rate is $13.75.

In related business last night, the board voted to ask the Sawyer station of the township fire department to take over the responsibilities of hauling water to some 50 township residents who currently have no water.

The job was being handled on a regular basis by the Riverside station, but the station's tanker has developed too many leaks, township officials said.

The Sawyer-area residents east of I-94 have had perennial water shortage problems.

Also last night, the board said it has received approval for two CETA-funded projects.

Under a $19,777 CETA grant, the township will hire two full-time employees who will work through March of next year on beautification and conservation projects in the township. Two men referred to the township by the Michigan Employment Security Commission have already been hired.

The township also qualified for a CETA program for hiring four River Valley high school students to perform cleanup duties in the township this summer, Peterson said.

He said the township has not learned yet whether it will get additional CETA funds for hiring a full-time police officer.

The board also learned from the township's park board that Pier Street beach in Lakeside is nearly ready for public use. The park board has been supervising a general renovation of the park.

The board voted to open at its July 7 meeting, sealed bids for the purchase of a 1946 fire truck the township wants to sell. Bids have to be submitted to the township by July 8.

Group Honors Andrews Prof

Dr. Marion Merchant of Andrews University was awarded a certificate for service at the annual dinner meeting of the Berrien county chapter of the Michigan Society for Mental Health last night at St. Joseph Memorial hospital.

Dr. Merchant has served as president of the Berrien chapter since 1975 and was cited for her "enduring dedication" to the work of the mental health society. The award was presented to Dr. Merchant by David Sweet, a member of the Berrien chapter and new chapter vice president.

David Upton, a member of the state board of directors for the Michigan Society for Mental Health was named as the 1977-78 chapter president at the banquet.

Other chapter officers named last night were: Lucy Mayer, a registered nurse from Benton Harbor, secretary; and Robert Jones, director of Gateway Workshop in Berrien Springs, treasurer.

Charles Rubel of the Riverwood Community Health Center was the featured speaker at the dinner meeting. Rubel addressed the group on "Sadness, Depression, and Disappointment," repeating a talk he had given earlier in the year.

New Buffalo Pushes Girls' Athletic Program

NEW BUFFALO — The New Buffalo school board last night responded to charges of sex discrimination in athletics saying the district was moving as quickly as possible in implementing a girls' athletic program.

The board instructed Leo Munnit, board secretary, to write a letter to Daniel Lisak, New Buffalo teachers association president, saying the program was being implemented as quickly as possible with the finances and facilities available.

Last month Lisak charged that Supt. Walter Schwarz with doing an "inadequate job of implementing" federal title-9 regulations. The regulations ban sex discrimination. Lisak charged that more sports were offered for boys than for girls and that athletic equipment for boys was superior to that available for girls.

In discussion last night, John Miller, assistant high school principal, said that 100 high school boys participated in the basketball program this year compared to just 14 girls.

High school Principal Ronald Morrison said that only three eighth grade girls have indicated an interest in participating in basketball as freshmen next year.

At the May 16 board meeting, resignations of nine coaches were accepted. The nine cited inadequate implementation of title-9, low coaching salaries and unresolved teacher contracts.

In other areas, the board accepted the low of four bids for repair work at Central school. The low bid was $23,855 from Slatetite Roofing and Sheet Metal, Inc., South Bend, Ind. The work includes tuck pointing, removal of glass blocks in a former kindergarten classroom with brick replacement and replacement of broken brick throughout the school.

The board voted to pay Quality Roofing Co., Eau Claire, $2,300 of a $3,375 final payment for roofing repairs at Central. The payment is pending final settlement with the roofing company's insurance company over damages the school says were caused to the stage and gym floors during roof repairs by the firm.

The board voted to advertise for bids for a $150,000 loan in anticipation of state aid funds. The state aid funds are expected in August, but the board claimed the money is needed for school operations during the summer prior to the first 1977-78 aid payment.

The board met in executive session on teacher contract negotiations, but took no formal actions.

Labor Pact Talks Said At Impasse

By TOM RENNER

SOUTH HAVEN Correspondent
SOUTH HAVEN — Contract negotiations between the city of South Haven and the Independent Municipal Employees union reached an impasse yesterday over economic issues, according to City Manager Paul Sharon.

The city and union were meeting with a state mediator in an attempt to negotiate a new three-year contract. The old contract expired April 15.

Sharon said the five-hour session was "not productive." Sharon said he would probably recommend to city council that management ask for binding arbitration.

Union president Dennis Mulac refused to comment, noting that a formal statement would be released today.

The parties had settled more than 20 non-economic issues at an earlier session with the mediator who had been called in after employees threatened to strike.

Pool Shot Record?

HILLSDALE, Mich. (AP) — A 16-year-old high school student today claimed a world record for the most pool shots in a 24-hour period. John Potter of Hillsdale claimed he shot 5,759 balls, topping the old mark of 5,688 shot by Bruce Christopher of New York City in 1974. Six witnesses gathered in Potter's home basement to see him break the old mark as recorded in Guinness Book of World Records. They confirmed that the youth made only one major stop of five minutes to gobble pizza and wash it down with soda pop.

Area Engineers Award Memorial Scholarships

High school seniors from Berrien Springs and Edwardsburg have been named recipients of scholarships presented in the name of a late Stevensville engineer.

Anthony Sammons, Berrien Springs, and Gregory Peak, Edwardsburg, have been named winners of scholarships awarded by the Southwestern Michigan chapter 120 of the Society of Manufacturing Engineers.

The scholarships, $200 for Sammons, and $500 for Peak, were presented earlier this week in memory of the late Richard Schoff, Stevensville, an engineer with Bendix corporation's Hydraulics division. St. Joseph, Schoff, a member of the society for over 25 years, died in October of 1976.

This was the first year the chapter, with over 120 members in Berrien, Van Buren and Cass counties, presented the scholarships in Schoff's name.

Sammons, 18, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sammons, 121 Midway drive, Berrien Springs, Peak, 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Peak, 202 North Lake street, Edwardsburg.

Named alternate recipient was Mark A. Petro, 18, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurie Petro, route 2, Dowagiac, and a Decatur high school senior.

The scholarships were presented in honors ceremonies held at the respective schools. The society is a national organization devoted to the advancement of scientific knowledge in the field of manufacturing.

Four South County Stars Nominated

Four athletes from south Berrien county are the latest nominees for the 1977 Berrien County Sportswriters Award. Mark D'Amato of New Buffalo, Ed Pilarski of Brandywine, Brian Crocker of Niles and Rick Kuntz of Galien are among 16 Berrien county athletes nominated for the trophy, which will be presented Monday at an awards banquet at Tosi's restaurant.

The award, sponsored by the Herald-Palladium, is given to the county's outstanding senior athlete.

D'Amato earned four letters in track, two in basketball and one each in football and cross country.

D'Amato was one of the top sprinters in the area. His 9.8 in the 100 dash this spring placed him fifth on the all-time honor roll. This spring he has won both the 220 and 100 in the Red Arrow meet and the Class C regional.

He holds school records in the 100, 200 and 400 and was a member of the record-breaking 440 and 880 relay teams. He was MVP his junior year when he also went to state in both dashes.

D'Amato, a Golden Key award winner, gained honorable mention on both the Red Arrow all-conference football and basketball squads this past year. He led the Bison cagers in scoring with a 12.6 average.

D'Amato, who has been accepted at Ferris State, ended with a grade-point average of 3.0. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Benedict R. D'Amato, Route 1, Box 188, Evergreen Park, New Buffalo.

Pilarski took away two letters apiece in football and basketball and one each in track and baseball.

He was the Blossomland all-league quarterback last fall. The 6-2, 185-pounder scored 38 points last year and served as team captain. Pilarski will attend Western Michigan on a football scholarship.

Pilarski also averaged 10.8 points for the Bobcat basketball team this winter when he was captain and honorable mention in the Blossomland. He also gained second team honors in basketball this spring.

Pilarski was a member of the National Honor Society, Varsity Club and student council. He ended with a 3.31 scholastic average. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pilarski, 2237 S. 13th Street, Niles.

Crocker ended with seven letters, three in track and two each in football and wrestling.

Crocker was named to the Big Seven all-league football team last fall. He owns honor roll efforts in both the shot put and discus this spring. Crocker captured the shot put at the Big Seven conference meet last week with an area-best throw.

Crocker, who carried a four-year academic average of 3.0, plans to attend Western Michigan. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dillard Crocker, 1710 Cedar Street, Niles.

Kuntz won three letters in football and two in basketball. He was named to the second team of the all-Red Arrow football team last fall and to the first team of the star basketball squad this winter. The 6-5, 215-pounder averaged 12.5 points this year.

Kuntz was co-MVP in basketball and was top senior athlete at Galien.

He has been president of his freshmen, sophomore and senior classes, a student council member four years and vice-president of the student council in his senior year.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kuntz, 1880 Bakertown Road, Buchanan.

CAMP RECOVERS: St. Joseph runner Patricia Camp recovers at Memorial Hospital after breaking her leg in the Rotary Track Meet Tuesday night. Camp was running the second leg of the mile relay when the injury occurred. Going around the final turn, Camp was neck-and-neck with a Benton Harbor runner. "She came up beside me," Camp explained. "I pushed harder and it gave." The extra effort fractured two bones in Camp's lower leg. It didn't take long for the 16-year-old St. Joe junior to fill her cast with autographs. The Bear track team visited her at the hospital Wednesday and signed the cast. Camp was to have been released from the hospital today. Doctors estimate that Camp will be in a walking cast for two or three months with as much as a year's recovery period necessary after that. (Staff photo)

'For Real' Cubs Taking On Bucs

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, who've replaced the Pittsburgh Pirates atop the National League East, open a three-game weekend series tonight.

"The Cubs are for real. They'll be in it all the way unless we get hot," says Pirate outfielder Al Oliver.

The surprise Cubs swept Pittsburgh in three games last weekend in Chicago. Oliver traces the Chicago surge this season to new Manager Herman Franks.

"I guess he deserves the credit. He's got them motivated," says Oliver.

Franks came out of retirement this season to manage a Chicago team that finished fourth in the NL East a year ago with a 75-87 record.

"I'm 63 years old and feeling younger," Franks says. "If I continue to feel young, I might continue to manage for the next 10 years."

"Heck, I played for Connie Mack when he was 95, and nobody said he was old," added the former Philadelphia Athletics catcher.

Meanwhile, the Pirates are in second place, 1½ games behind Chicago. Pittsburgh, idle Thursday, lost five straight before edging the Phillies 3-0 Wednesday night in Philadelphia.

"I'm not worried about where we are," says Pirate Manager Chuck Tanner, whose team began a 10-game home stand that also includes encounters with the San Francisco Giants and San Diego Padres.

"I'm happy that we're playing as well as we have been. If we play like we have, we're capable of going all the way," added Tanner.

Nonetheless, the Pirates have dropped eight of their last 12 games.

"No, we're not pressing," says Tanner.

"I can see it. We've played good ball. We've played aggressively, and you can't be aggressive when you're pressing."

In tonight's game, Ray Burris, 7-4, will pitch for Chicago against Jim Hooker, 4-3, of the Pirates.

Improved Archer Tops Kemper Open

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — It was something of an old refrain from George Archer.

"I'm still trying. It's coming along. It's getting better," he said after a six-under-par 66 had given him a one-stroke lead Thursday in the first round of the $250,000 Kemper Open Golf Tournament.

But big George has been saying the same thing for two years, ever since an operation on his left wrist almost ruined his career.

He never complained. "It's getting better," he responded to questions during those months he was trying to fight his way back to respectability.

"Coming along," he'd say after missing the cut.

There were no complaints. But he almost left the tour.

"I'd decided not to play this year," Archer said. "I was just going home and work on my game, try to work myself back into condition. But then I won the Sahara in Las Vegas (last fall) and that gave me an exemption for this year. That's the only reason I'm out here now."

"That operation was a disaster. It took away my left side. My game, my putting, everything, just went. My distance was gone. I've been working on it pretty hard. And it's coming back. I'm getting a better feel on the putter. Even my distance is coming back."

He paused and a mischievous smile crossed his face.

"Maybe one of these days I'll be able to hit it with the big boys."

He hit it well enough to leave three of the biggest of the big hitters — Tom Weiskopf, Jim Dent and Barney Thompson — one stroke behind at 67.

Charles Coody, Chi Chi Rodriguez, Kermil Zarley and Don Iverson were grouped at 68 in the exceptionally good scoring that was at least partially attributable to players being allowed to get their hands on the ball.

Most of the grass on the 7,100-yard Quail Hollow Country Club course was killed by a hard winter followed by a drought. Recent storms turned the fairways into muddy plains and tournament officials had to go to winter rules, allowing the players to lift, clean and place the ball in the fairway.

Lanny Wadkins, twice a runner-up this season and the leader through three rounds last week in Atlanta, headed a big group at 69. Defending champion Joe Imman, Lee Trevino and Hubert Green were at 70. Arnold Palmer once had it three under par for the day but finished with a 71.

TRYING FOR A BIRD: Golfer Tom Weiskopf, from Columbus, Ohio, reacts as he misses a birdie try from the fringe of the fourth green during Thursday's first round of the Kemper Open being played at the Quail Hollow Country Club in Charlotte. Several Teams Eyeing NCAA Track Crown CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — While no clear-cut favorite has emerged in the battle for the 56th NCAA Track and Field Championship, several teams sparked by outstanding individual efforts have shown that their interest in the crown may be more than just a dream.

"I've got nine races this weekend," Olympian Herman Frazier of Arizona State said Thursday. "We're here to win all we can."

Frazier, part of the 1,600-meter relay team that won the gold medal at the 1976 Olympics, and his teammates fared well during the first day of qualifying Thursday as the Sun Devils advanced 10 qualifiers to lead the field.

Defending champion Southern California, riding the performance of sprinter Clancy Edwards, who qualified for the semifinals in the 100- and 200-meter dashes and the 400-meter relay, remained in contention for its 27th title with nine qualifiers. Kansas, UCLA and Auburn had nine, eight and seven qualifiers, respectively, and were considered dark horses.

Arizona State, defending champion in the 400-meter relay, qualified in that event again with Frazier running anchor. Its time of 39.82 seconds, however, was a shade slower than the 39.81 posted by Texas.

Frazier also anchored Arizona State's 1,600-meter relay squad and qualified for the semifinals in the 400-meter run.

Kansas, meanwhile, was a bit of a surprise during the first day of competition. The Jayhawks advanced two runners each in the steeplechase and 110-meter hurdles, its 400- and 1,600-meter relay teams, and Cliff Wiley in the 100- and 200-meter dashes.

Finals were scheduled today in the 100-meter dash, 110-meter high hurdles, 10,000 meters, hammer throw, shot put and long jump.

Olympians Harvey Glance of Auburn and Johnny Jones of Texas were due to square off in the 100-meter final, but a potential showdown in the 200-meter dash won't come Saturday because Glance, plagued by a nagging groin injury, failed to qualify.

Glance qualified for the 100 final in 10.88 seconds, but was fourth in his 200-meter qualifying heat, with a disappointing time of 21.56. Jones led both events with 10.38 and 21.21.

Glance, who won both events last year, said, "No, I'm not really disappointed in my performance. I think I did the best I could under the conditions."

Raiders, Cards Tied For Lead

Smola Hurls Two-Hitter

The SAC baseball champion will not be decided until early next week.

Decatur saw to that Thursday night by blasting Bloomingdale 10-0. The Raider win left both Decatur and Bloomingdale with 9-2 league records. Both have make-up games which will be made up either Monday or Tuesday. Bloomingdale must still play at Lawton and Decatur hosts Martin.

In other SAC play Thursday, Lawrence upset Gobles 5-4 and Marcellus pounded Martin 9-3. Jim Smola pitched a two-hitter in Decatur's win. Smola struck out eight and walked just one. Tom Hickey took the loss for the Cardinals.

"We were ready," Decatur coach Jack Gleason said. "I think we were just a little more ready than they were."

Decatur, now 15-8 overall, tallied four runs in the second and broke the game open with five more in the fourth. Dave Gebhardt, Kurt Wiese and Phil Garza each drove in a pair of runs for the winners.

Bloomingdale, which fell to 17-5 overall, committed six errors to help the Raiders. Decatur has handed Bloomingdale both of its league losses, while the Cardinals won the non-league game between the two. The Raiders and Cardinals could meet again in the championship game of the Class C district at Bangor if both win semifinal contests.

Lawrence nipped Gobles on a balk in the bottom of the seventh. With two out and no one on, the Tigers (7-5) pulled the game out. Jim McLemore walked and advanced to third on an errant pickoff throw. Gobles then intentionally walked winning pitcher Jim Mason.

Gobles pitcher Bill Laughlin then went into his stretch and turned to throw to first. First baseman John Hunt was playing off the bag, however, so Laughlin failed to throw and was called for a balk. The balk allowed McLemore to score the winning run.

Mason and Ed Glista collected two hits apiece for Lawrence, now 13-7 overall. Gobles finished 8-4 in SAC play and is 12-11 overall.

Bob Sziede pitched a five-hitter in Marcellus' win. The Wildcats finished 2-10 in SAC play, while Martin stands 2-9.

Cincinnati Blows Lead; Loses To Astros In 11th

CINCINNATI (AP) — For eight innings, the Cincinnati Reds couldn't do anything wrong.

Then they couldn't do anything right. Jack Billingham lost his stuff in the ninth, then the Reds lost their shutout and eventually lost the game, 6-4 in 11 innings to the Houston Astros Thursday night.

"I simply thought Jack had had it when I took him out when I did," said Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson.

Billingham had a 3-0 lead and was within two out of his second shutout of the year when he allowed singles to Jose Cruz and Ed Hermann and was taken out of the game. Rawly Eastwick relieved and Bob Watson promptly tagged him for a three-run homer, tying the score.

The Astros won in the 11th with a three-run rally highlighted by Art Howe's two-run double off Dale Murray.

In the only other National League game Thursday night, the New York Mets defeated the Montreal Expos 7-4.

Watson's homer was one of four hits by the slugging first baseman. He also managed to hit Billingham with a line drive in the second inning, causing the pitcher's leg to stiffen.

Eastwick, after giving up the tying homer in the ninth, was upset by boos from the crowd.

"The front-running people just don't understand," said Eastwick, who has made only two appearances in 13 days. "I need more work. I don't know whether it's because I haven't signed my contract or what, but I have to work."

After the Astros took a 5-3 lead in the top of the 11th, the Reds came back with a run in the bottom of the inning on singles by George Foster, Dave Concepcion and Dan Driessen.

But Watson then fielded Cesar Geronimo's hard grounder down the first base line, tagged out Driessen before he ran and stepped on the base for a game-ending double play.

Lee Mazzilli drove in three runs with a two-run homer and a sacrifice fly as New York downed Montreal and handed the Expos their 18th defeat in 23 games.

"I've got a lot of things to learn and I'm not going to learn them overnight," said the 21-year-old Mazzilli, the youngest regular in the Mets' lineup. "(Manager) Joe (Torre) said to me it is just a matter of time. He feels I can be a .300 hitter."

His homer went over the left field wall after John Stearns had walked leading off the second inning against Montreal starter and loser Dan Warthen.

Last European Bumped From French Tourney

PARIS (AP) — The seven-year reign of European tennis stars in the French Open Championships is over. The semifinals this year are a U.S. Davis Cupper, two Latin Americans and an Australian.

The last European to be eliminated, Wojtek Fibak of Poland, predicted that Sunday's final, for a first prize of $38,000, will be between American Brian Gottfried and Guillermo Vilas of Argentina.

"I have great respect for Vilas, but I wouldn't care to put my money on anybody," Wojtek said after Vilas, the left-hander with the flowing strokes and generous backswing and follow-through, had destroyed him in three straight sets in the quarter-finals.

Gottfried, bidding to be the first American to win this prized slow clay courts title in 23 years, has first to overcome big-hitting Phil Dent of Australia.

Vilas has a semifinal engagement with Raul Ramirez, the man of the hour. In a classic clay courts match Thursday, Ramirez eliminated the defending champion, Adriano Panatta of Italy.

If records mean anything, it looks like a Vilas-Gottfried final. Vilas has played Ramirez seven times and won all seven. Gottfried met Dent only once and beat him comfortably.

But Ramirez, a humorous and philosophical character, warned the fans not to be so sure.

"Since Vilas has beaten me seven times, it must be my turn to win," the Mexican said. "He cannot go on winning all his life."

Patience and skill, rather than big hitting and adventurous net play, win matches on the slow surface of Roland Garros Stadium, where a packed crowd of 12,000 on the center court watched Ramirez dethrone Panatta 7-6, 6-3, 7-5.

Ramirez conducted his campaign mainly from his baseline. Panatta went more often to the net, where the Mexican almost invariably passed him for the big points.

Ramirez and Panatta were evenly matched up to 6-6 and five points all in the tiebreaker. Then Ramirez won two big points for the first set, and the match went his way from then on.

Vilas hustled Fibak out 6-4, 60, 6-4. In one embarrassing spell of one-sided tennis, Vilas won eight games in a row, dropping only eight points.

Janet Newberry of La Jolla, Calif., who won the women's title in the Italian Open and hopes to add the French, was to meet Florenta Mihai of Romania in the semis today. The other semi was between Regina Marsikova of Czechoslovakia and Mima Jausovec of Yugoslavia.

Ms. Marsikova teamed with Pam Teeguarden of Los Angeles to win the women's doubles Thursday, beating Helen Gourlay of Australia and Rayni Fox of North Miami Beach, Fla., 57, 6-4, 6-2.

AWARD WINNERS: Duane Toney (left) and Tom Sinclair were named co-winners of the Robinson trophy at Hartford high school. The trophy was established 10 years ago by the family of George Robinson who died of a heart attack at Michigan State where he was a student. The award is based on scholarship, citizenship and overall athletic performance in at least two sports. The trophy was presented by high school principal James Kappler at an awards assembly on Wednesday. (Vivian DeMorrow photo)

Hanson Signed By Wings

DETROIT (AP) — Wisconsin native Dave Hanson has been signed by the National Hockey League Detroit Red Wings.

The 23-year-old Hanson, a 6-foot-1, 200-pounder, can play either defense or left wing, according to General Manager Ted Lindsay.

Japanese Golfer Leading

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP) — "A wonderful competitor ... she tries hard to beat you all the time ... so polite that you can't believe it."

One might not guess that Sandra Palmer, the 13-year veteran was talking about the woman she trailed after the opening round Thursday of a $100,000 Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament.

Chako Higuchi, a Japanese who never has won a U.S. tournament, topped the field of 104 with a three-under-par 69 on the 6,196-yard Wykagyl Country Club course. She achieved it with three birdies and no bogeys. Miss Palmer carded a 70 for second place.

What made Mrs. Higuchi's score even more remarkable was her unorthodox swing.

"The book says you aren't supposed to lift your head when shooting," explained Miss Palmer, who sank a five-foot birdie on the last hole and grabbed the runner-up spot by one stroke over a group of five, including defending champion Pat Bradley of Westford, Mass.

"Chako's drives are so accurate that she almost matches my hits with the No. 9 iron. It's amazing. I'm convinced, and so are a lot of the other girls, that she would be a consistent winner if she played in the U.S. all the time," Miss Palmer said.

Mrs. Higuchi, in her eighth year as a pro, divides her time between America, Europe and her native land.

JC Title Game Tonight

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP) — DeKalb South, Ga., rallied for four runs in the top of the ninth to edge favored Yavapai, Ariz., 8-7 Thursday night and force another championship game in the National Junior College Baseball Tournament.

A victory by previously unbeaten Yavapai, the nation's No. 1 ranked junior college team, would have given the Arizona team the title in the double-elimination tournament. Instead, the teams must play again at 8 p.m. Friday night to decide a champion.

SPECIAL INTERESTS? Two environmentalists, State Reps. Thomas Anderson (left), D-Southgate and Warren Goemaere, D-Roseville propose to repeal years of laws they said grant "blatant" special privileges for the iron ore industry on Michigan's Upper Peninsula. (AP Wirephoto)

'Self-Serving' Mining Laws Hit By Legislators

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Two environmentalist lawmakers have proposed the repeal of what they attacked as "self-serving" laws for Michigan's iron ore mining industry on the Upper Peninsula.

They introduced legislation to repeal or modify years of mining laws, including the ore tax act and the "incredible" right of mining industries to condemn land.

The bills were offered by Reps. Thomas Anderson, D-Southgate, chairman of the House Conservation Committee, and Warren Goemaere, D-Roseville, a former Conservation vice-chairman.

At a crowded news conference attended by powerful U.P. Rep. Dominic Jacobetti, D-Negaunee, Anderson denied the bills were a "vendetta" against mining interests that are blocking a wetlands protection bill.

"It is true that I, along with other legislators ... have had and continue to have confrontations with the iron ore mining lobby," Anderson said.

"However, I am not opposed to mining, nor do I suggest ... unreasonable restraints on mining activities."

Jacobetti, part of a U.P. legislative delegation that Anderson and Goemaere described as disproportionately powerful, immediately scheduled a news conference for Friday to criticize the bills.

"He (Anderson) is very, very unfair, and I'm going to be very specific about it," said Jacobetti, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

He said the legislation would "virtually wipe out any more expansion" of an industry that employs some 4,000 workers on the U.P.

The bills would:

—Repeal a 1968 law granting condemnation power to the iron ore mining industry.

—Repeal the "blatant special interest" exemption of mining and logging from the Soil Erosion and Sedimentation Control Act of 1972.

—Repeal a 1959 law setting up a special water use permit so mining companies can divert water from public lakes and streams for industry purposes.

—Repeal the 1963 ore tax act, in which taxation for the industry is based on ore value rather than land value.

—Repeal an 84-year-old law letting the iron ore industry obtain tax-reverted lands from the state.

U.S. Suit Hits LA Police Bias

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Unjust standards have kept women, blacks and Hispanics from becoming Los Angeles police officers, the Justice Department says.

In a suit against Police Chief Ed Davis and 11 other city officials, the federal agency said the city has "failed or refused to recruit, hire and assign" women, blacks and Spanish-surnamed applicants on the same basis as white Anglo men.

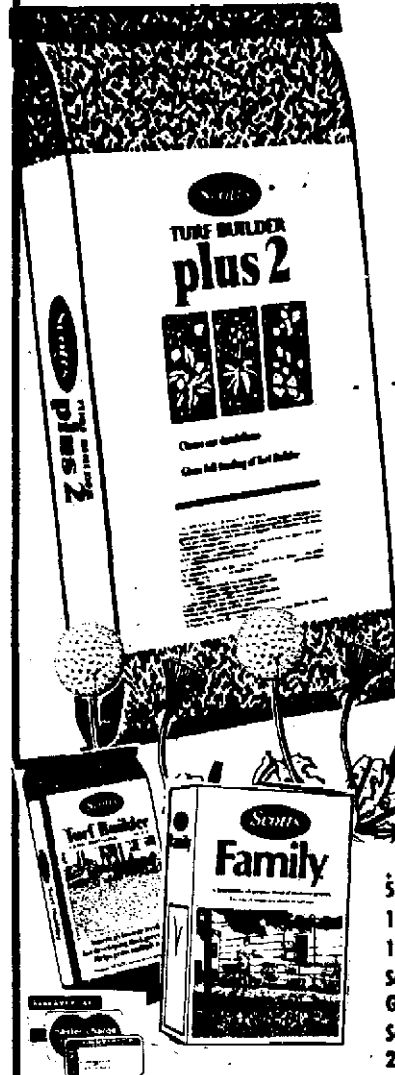

Harvey Rabbit Is Mean Bunny

NEW YORK (AP) — The ASPCA is warning burglars that the animal society's Manhattan offices are guarded by a watchrabbit. That's right, a watchrabbit. His name is Harvey and he is not to be messed with. Harvey is a trained attack rabbit whose unidentified owner handed him over to officials of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals 10 days ago after he bit six people.

ASPCA Executive Director Gordon Wright says the animal society then turned Harvey over to the Department of Health, which held him for observation before releasing him back to the ASPCA.

Wright says Harvey is not up for adoption because "we don't adopt out attack animals. In the case of the attack rabbit, we will probably keep it — to protect our premises," Wright said. Harvey is described as an "adult-sized gray and white rabbit. He's very cranky. He does not have a nice disposition," Wright says, adding that Harvey acts up and bites once a person gets "within hopping distance." Wright says it is not clear whether Harvey will have to be licensed under a new city law mandating the licensing of attack animals. "There aren't too many attack rabbits around," he notes.

REASSURANCES

NEW YORK (AP) — Budget Director Bert Lance has given the steel industry some reassurances, saying the Carter administration doesn't plan to use guidelines or controls to keep steel prices down.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Market Turns Upward

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market pushed ahead today with a lift from some favorable news on inflation and interest rates.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials rose more than a point in the early going.

Gainers took a 2-2 lead over losers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

At the opening the Labor Department reported that the wholesale price index rose only 0.4 per cent in May for the smallest increase in nine months.

And New York's Citibank held its prime lending rate unchanged at 6 1/2 per cent. There had been some fears that the bank would increase the basic charge on blue chip loans to 7 per cent after two quarter-point increases last month.

Today's early prices included RCA, up 1/4 at 31 3/4; Occidental Petroleum, ahead 1/4 at 27 1/4; and American Telephone & Telegraph, unchanged at 61.

On Thursday the Dow Jones industrial average dropped 3.40 to 903.55.

Gainers and losers were evenly balanced in the over-all tally on the NYSE.

Big Board volume came to 18.62 million shares, against 18.32 million on Wednesday.

The NYSE's composite index lost .09 to 52.88.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was off .06 at 112.25.

OTHER CARS SEIZED

Second '77 Caddy Reported Missing

Benton Harbor police said a second 1977 Cadillac was stolen in a break-in at LeValley-Klum Olds Cadillac, 680 West Main street.

Police said the second car was reported missing from the dealership at 8:40 a.m. Thursday. Earlier Thursday, a Coupe DeVille was reported missing from the service garage after Patrolman Greg Platts found a window had been broken.

Police said both cars were believed taken in the same break-in.

The second missing car was described as a silver Sedan DeVille. The Coupe DeVille was described as red and white. Keys were in the ignitions of both cars, but only the coupe was licensed, police were told.

Meanwhile, Benton Harbor police said two other cars that had been reported stolen were recovered, and state police said they seized a car on I-94 that had been reported stolen in Arkansas.

Benton Harbor police reported the arrests of a 16-year-old Benton Harbor girl and two Benton township boys ages 14 and 15, on charges of unlawfully driving away an auto after officers recovered a stolen car in front of 388 Summit street. Police said all three juveniles were released to parents pending petitioning to juvenile court.

Police said the arrests were made shortly after three youths abandoned a 1975 Ford Granadina owned by Mattie Payne, 604 West John Beers road, Stevensville, which was reported stolen from 234 East Empire earlier Wednesday.

City police this morning reported the recovery of a second car reported stolen Wednesday.

Officers said a 1967 Ford Mustang reported stolen from Donald Saffell, 1314 Bishop, while parked on the 100 block of Territorial road at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, was found abandoned at 12:20 a.m. today at the intersection of Britain avenue and Heck court.

State police from the Benton Harbor post also reported the recovery of an allegedly stolen car, and said they arrested a Detroit man on a charge of receiving and concealing stolen property over $100. Troopers said Reginald McCarver, 19, was arrested at 9 p.m. Thursday after officers stopped a car on eastbound I-94 between Cleveland avenue and Glenford road. A 1972 Buick Electra reported stolen May 24 in Little Rock, Ark., was seized, police said.

Big Retail Chains Have Sales Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's major retailers have reported healthy sales gains for May, crediting such factors as unseasonably warm weather, strong Mothers Day sales, and general consumer buying confidence.

K-mart Corp., owner of Kresge and K-mart stores, said Thursday that sales gained 21.4 per cent, from $611.2 million in May 1976 to $742.1 million last month.

"This was the best month so far this year," a spokesman for the firm, based in Troy, Mich.

Sears Roebuck & Co., the nation's largest retailer, said sales for the four weeks ended May 28 rose 17.1 per cent to a record $1.353 billion from $1.156 billion a year earlier.

F.W. Woolworth Co. reported sales of $414.55 million, up 7.5 per cent over last year's $389.88 million.

J.C. Penney Co. reported a 6.4 per cent gain to $593 million from $557 million last year.

Dayton Hudson Corp. said sales rose 12.7 per cent to $145.4 million from $129 million a year earlier.

These Rates Going Down

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A Detroit-based health care provider, which competes with Blue Cross-Blue Shield, has been granted a 16 per cent rate reduction. The state insurance bureau gave Michigan HMO Plans, Inc., the cut. It will bring monthly premiums for basic supplemental benefits to $43.42 for individuals, $89.87 for couples and $108.55 for a family of three or more. Michigan HMO represents more than 350 physicians in 35 health centers and 22 hospitals in the Detroit area. The initials HMO stand for health maintenance organization. The insurer asked for the rate cut in April. It said the reduction was possible because of "emphasis on preventive health care services." The state insurance commissioner gave Michigan Blue Cross-Blue Shield a 9.45 per cent rate increase Thursday.

Electric Rate Settlement Reported At South Haven

SOUTH HAVEN — The South Haven Board of Public Utilities (BPU) was informed last night that a settlement had been reached in a challenge to a 1972 hike in the wholesale electric rate paid by the city.

BPU Comptroller Wilbur Lynam told the board that the attorney in the case had said the Federal Power Commission (FPC) had approved the settlement May 24.

Lynam said, however, no formal word had yet been received from the FPC.

According to Lynam, the city is to receive a refund under the settlement and would pass the savings on to consumers. He said the refund was not expected to exceed $250,000.

The challenge was begun after Indiana and Michigan Electric Co. boosted the wholesale power rate 38 per cent. The firm sells the power wholesale to South Haven and others in the association for resale to people living in the various communities.

Lynam said the method to disburse the refund to city consumers had not yet been determined.

In other areas, Board Member Douglas Wattrick submitted his resignation, effective immediately, because he is moving from the city. Wattrick has served on the board since January, 1975.

Lynam, in response to a question, reported the city charter provides for removal of a board member who misses four straight meetings. The question was raised over Ronald VanDerZee, board member, who was reported to have missed four consecutive meetings.

Lynam said the city council would have the right to act to remove a member for absenteeism.

The board recommended undertaking a study of the electric utility's industrial

GM Gearing Up For Electric Car Market Of '80s

DETROIT (AP) — The world's largest producer of gasoline-powered cars says it hopes to become a major producer of electric-powered vehicles by the late 1980s. General Motors Corp. President Eliot Estes said the giant automaker is "excited and enthusiastic" about the progress it has made toward building an electric car that would serve "as a shopper or commuter vehicle in two- and three-car families."

In a recent speech in New York, Estes said the company's basic objectives are to develop a car capable of reaching a top speed of 50 miles an hour, with a driving range of about 100 miles between battery charges, room for two passengers and sufficient capacity for packages. He said the car would not be much smaller in size than the Chevrolet Chevette. "It can't be a golf cart," he said.

Industry forecasters predict a mushrooming market for electric vehicles in the 1980s — as oil becomes more expensive and scarce — if the limitations of conventional lead-acid batteries are overcome: weight and storage capacity. Lead batteries are very heavy and bulky, and cannot store the electricity needed to give a vehicle a long-distance driving range without frequent recharges.

Estes said GM has made "good progress in the laboratory on the chemistry for a zinc-nickel oxide battery — lighter and with more storage capacity than lead-acid batteries. We believe this kind of battery could make electric cars viable alternatives to gasoline-powered ones if we can develop it."

Estes said GM recently launched a pilot operation at its Delco-Remy Division in Anderson, Ind., to try to learn how to manufacture the new battery and solve some of its problems, including high cost of manufacture. One reason electric vehicles are so attractive, he said, is that they are "the best way we know of today to use coal or nuclear energy to power personal transportation vehicles."

He said GM's first mass-produced electric car may not be ready by 1985, when the auto industry's new cars must meet a federal law requiring a minimum average fuel economy of 27.5 miles per gallon. "But I'm hopeful that it might be widely enough used by the late '80s to make its energy impact felt," Estes said.

Seney Fire Tactics Won't Be Repeated

SENEY, Mich. (AP) — The Seney National Wildlife Refuge manager says this year he will not let fires burn but will try to put them out right away.

A huge forest fire in the Upper Peninsula refuge began last July and continued to smolder until it was covered with snow. Officials estimated nearly 70,000 acres of timberland and bog were burned.

Federal officials were criticized for following what was called a "let-burn" policy and not trying to contain the fire immediately after it broke out.

But Jack Frye, refuge manager, said this week that he has adopted the immediate suppression policy because dry conditions have increased the chances of another fire.

"We're into another dry year," Frye said. "We haven't had any rain to speak of in a month. There's no question that any fire that would start would be immediately suppressed."

Rep. Philip Ruppe, R-Houghton, has criticized federal officials for the way they handled last year's Seney fire and demanded that the Interior Department discard the let-burn policy.

Frye and other Interior Department officials have said there is no let-burn policy but that sometimes fires are allowed to burn to eliminate undergrowth and improve conditions for wildlife.

Japanese Looking At Western Michigan Factory Locations

DETROIT (AP) — Japanese manufacturers are looking at western Michigan as possible sites for factories, according to Gov. William Milliken.

But Milliken declined to say this week precisely where the Japanese were looking. "It is going to be ticklish to mention cities where they have an interest."

Milliken was in Japan with other U.S. governors recently. He said in talks with Japanese executives he stressed the state's central location, skilled labor, proximity to the auto industry and suppliers and economic incentives to put plants in Michigan.

Among the companies he met with were the car manufacturers Toyota, Honda and Nissan, which makes the Datsun.

The Japanese, he said, are also looking at other states in the Midwest, at California and at Ontario, Canada.

"They see an enormous American market; they see Volkswagen moving in; they see the possibility of restrictions on the number of units they export, and the real advantages to moving where the market is," Milliken said.

The governor spoke in a telephone interview from Lansing with the Detroit Free Press.
